SAYS TAMMANY IS UP TO OLD TRICKS

Republican Chairman Woodruff Declares Tiger Crowd is Colonizing.

BOTH CLAIM VICTORY

Republicans Say Hughes Will Have 200,000 Above the Bronx and Hearst Men Deny It.

New York, Oct. 31.—"It may interest the public to know," said Chairman Woodruff, of the republican state committee, "that within an hour I was handed a letter from a prominent man in this city who says that Tammany Hall has been discovered at its old trick of colonization. I referred the letter to the state superintendent of elections. I have no doubt whatever regarding the accuracy of the statement made by the man who wrote the letter."

William Barnes, jr., former chairman of the executive committee of the republican state committee, said today:

"I have been here a great deal since the state convention, simply looking around and keeping in touch with the situation generally throughout the state. I have gone over with extreme care the reports submitted to the state committee by the chairman of the county, as well as the town organizations, and think I can safely say now what the result of the republican canvass indicates. Governor Higgins' plurality above the Bronx was 160,000. I have not found anything to indicate a loss from that vote in more than thirty out of the three thousand election districts. My prediction is that Mr. Hughes will come down to the Bronx with more than 200,000 plurality."

Max F. Ihmsen, campaign manager for the Independence league, said with reference to Mr. Barnes' claim:

"Of course Mr. Barnes was joking. He knows as well as I do that every county in the state shows tremendous republican losses and that in every county in the state Hughes will lose many hundreds of votes and that republican counties that have not gone democratic in twenty years will give a majority for Mr. Hearst."

Hearst Offers Rewards.

Rewards amounting to $5,000 are offered by William R. Hearst, democratic and Independence league candidate for governor, for evidence of election frauds on Tuesday night. These rewards were announced today by the state democratic committee.

Both Mr. Hearst and Mr. Hughes, the republican nominee, continued their canvass of up-state counties. The weather in the localities traversed is unfavorable today, being cold with snow falling. Mr. Hearst's voice has become almost entirely worn out, but he expects to address five meetings in Buffalo tonight.

Mr. Hughes, in a speech at Fulton, N. Y., today, attacked Mr. Hearst's newspaper corporations and declared that Mr. Hearst, in these large corporations, had failed to pay their proper share of taxes.

LAST UP-STATE TOUR.

Candidate Hughes Working to the Finish in His Campaign.

Oswego, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The last up-state tour of Charles E. Hughes prior to the election of Tuesday next is drawing to a close. Beginning today Mr. Hughes will gradually work his way to the east and south, reaching New York on Friday night, when he will address several meetings in Long Island city and Brooklyn. The candidate and his party left here early today with Syracuse as the objective point for the night meeting. After a fifteen minute ride there was a stop at Fulton, where Mr. Hughes made a brief address. At Auburn there will be an afternoon meeting. Mr. Hughes will have a rest of several hours before the night meeting at Syracuse begins.

HEARST'S LAST DAY.

Democrat Winding Up His Upstate Campaign.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The last day of William Randolph Hearst's final up-state campaign trip welcomed him with a driving snowstorm and generally very unfavorable weather conditions for a political candidate with a worn out voice. In spite of the weather when Mr. Hearst left here at 1 a. m., the understanding was that he would speak at meetings to be held this afternoon at Medina, Lockport, Niagara Falls and Batavia. The trip and the up-state campaign so far as Mr. Hearsts personal participation is concerned is expected to end tonight with three meetings in Buffalo, after which he will return to New York City.

ANARCHISTS UNDER BOND.

Eleven Arrested in New York Face Serious Charges.

New York, Oct. 31.—Emma Goldman, five other women and five men, all of whom are alleged to be anarchists and who were arrested last night for alleged violation of the penal code which prohibits "unlawful assemblies for the purpose of overthrowing the government," were arraigned in police court today and held in $1,000 bail each for further examination. Policeman Schwartz, who made stenographic reports of some of the speeches at the meeting, said Johns Edelson, who spoke in Yiddish, said that the people present had gathered to talk of Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley. "He said they were there to discuss whether Czolgosz's act was justified," said the policeman, "and he said they had nothing to retract."

TWO WARDS ARE TO UNITE IN MEETING

BIG GATHERING AT HARTMAN'S HALL TONIGHT.

Democrats Will Discuss Municipal Ownership—Other Political Notes of the Day.

Democrats of the Seventh and Tenth wards will unite in a monster meeting this evening at Hartman's hall on Hanna street, and in addition to other issues of the campaign the municipal lighting question will be considered. The speakers include Judge Edward O'Rourke, Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, Anselm Fuelber and O. P. Eversole.

Friday evening the democratic city meeting will be held for the Fifth and Sixth wards at Taylor street and Broadway; Saturday evening the Eighth ward democrats will meet at Cattez's hall on Maumee avenue, and on Monday the democrats of the Ninth ward will hold a meeting at the Racine collar shop.

Allen county prohibitionists will hold their final meeting of the present campaign in the assembly room of the court house next Monday evening, and it is announced that a number of excellent speakers will be present.

Chairman W. E. Doud, who is in charge of arrangements for the Beveridge meeting in Fort Wayne tomorrow evening, says that interest in the senator's coming is not confined to Fort Wayne, but that inquiry from the northern counties of the district make it evident that a large out-of-town attendance will be present. Former Attorney General W. L. Taylor, who is a member of the Beveridge party, but who will arrive in advance of the senator tomorrow, will speak at the overflow meeting in the court house, together with Lieutenant Governor Miller, while Senator Beveridge is delivering his address at the rink.

The republican candidates held a meeting at the works of the Western Gas Construction company today during the noon hour, while John Morris addressed a meeting at the east car shops of the Pennsylvania company. Tomorrow republicans will hold noonday meetings at the Knitting mills, where Mr. Gilhams will speak, and at the Pennsylvania shops, where the speakers will be W. L. Taylor, former attorney general, and Mr. Gilhams. Friday noon Mr. Gilhams is billed to speak at the Organ factory; Friday evening at the old A. M. E. church, and on Saturday evening at Hartman's hall on Hanna street.

This evening Deputy Attorney General W. C. Geake and ex-Senator Dausman, of Goshen, will speak at Williamsport.

Hon. W. L. Taylor, former attorney general of the state, is being sent into the Twelfth district to aid the republicans in the close of the campaign. Mr. Taylor will arrive from Indianapolis tomorrow and will devote the remainder of the week to making addresses in Allen county.

The democratic candidates held a large noonday meeting at the Kerr Murray works today, and tomorrow noonday meetings will be held at the Packard organ factory and the Bass works.

In its estimate of the probable membership of the next legislature the Indianapolis Star forecasts the election of all the democratic legislative nominess from Allen county.

TEACHER AVERTS A PANIC.

With Her Pointer She Forces Pupils to Observe Fire Drill Discipline.

Argentine, Kas., Oct. 31.—The presence of mind of Gertrude B. Williams, teacher of the sixth grade in the Emerson public school here prevented a panic and probably loss of life yesterday when she forced the children in her room to march from the building in order instead of rushing pell mell when an alarm of fire was given. When the children made a concerted dash for the door, the teacher stepped ahead of them, blocking the doorway and raising her pointer threateningly. The first children to reach the exit forced her against the door jam and she was severely bruised. She stood her ground, ordered them into line and saw them march from the building safely and in order. The children from the other rooms followed. No one was hurt. The fire loss was trivial.

INTERURBAN HIT TRAIN.

S. F. Pfeiffer Bruised and Front of Car Damaged.

In a collison with a freight train at the Pennsylvania crossing about 9:30 o'clock this morning a Huntington interurban car on the Wabash Valley line, had its pilot knocked off, the front badly damaged and S. F. Pfeiffer, of Buffalo, N. Y., had his right leg painfully bruised about the knee. One of the gates at the crossing was also demolished. The accident was due to the failure of the reverse lever on the interurban car to work.

The car was going south and as it neared the railroad tracks the motorman saw that the gates were down and that a train was passing. He endeavored to stop the car but was unsuccessful and it crashed into one of the freight cars, about the middle of the train. The conductor snatched off the trolley and the car recoiled from the impact without serious damage. The passengers were transferred to the limited and the car proceeded on its trip. Mr. Pfeiffer was also able to continue his journey.

The Degree of Honor will give a progressive pedro party Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chapman, 1416 Broadway.

VICE PRESIDENT IS DOING STATE

Fairbanks Starts on Hurry Up Tour of Indiana to Close Campaign.

HAS GOOD AUDIENCES

Speaker Cannon Speaking at Elkhart Denies That He is An Enemy of Union Labor.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks today began a four days' speaking tour of Indiana during which all parts of the state will be visited. The vice-president is traveling on a special train and is accompanied by a number of the republican leaders of the state. A large crowd gathered at the depot when the special left here.

Speeches were scheduled for today at Shelbyville, Greensburg, Rushville, Connorsville, New Castle, Parker City, Winchester and Richmond.

On the train with the vice-president today when it left here were Joseph B. Kealing, United States district attorney and John L. Griffiths, consul general to Liverpool; Jas. P. Goodrich, chairman of state committee; Harry Pettit, United States marshal; M. D. Tackett, past department commander of the Indiana G. A. R., several of the state officers, candidates and one or two former state officials.

At Shelbyville, the first stop, the vice-president spoke from the rear end of the train. The vice-president called attention to the large furniture manufacturing industry of Shelbyville and said the manufacturing prosperity of the city dated from 1896 and the republican administration of that period.

Fairbanks Praises Hanly.

Mr. Fairbanks paid a warm tribute to Governor Hanly and his reform administration. He urged the importance of electing a legislature that would be in sympathy with the governor's policy. The crowd at Shelbyville was large and enthusiastic.

At Greensburg another large crowd had gathered and was waiting patiently when the vice-president's train arrived 25 minutes late. The speech there was directed especially to the farmers. High school boys escorted Mr. Fairbanks from the train to the speakers' stand. A touching reference to the death of Will Cumback was made. "I like to visit an agricultural community," said Mr. Fairbanks, "because there you will find deliberate judgment—men and women who give thought to the great questions which lie at the foundation of the development of a community. I was born on a farm and it was one of the best things I ever did. (Laughter.)

Rushville was profusely decorated. Automobiles took the party to the speakers' stand and the vice-president was introduced by John K. Gowdy, former consul general to Paris.

The meeting at Connersville was shortened on account of the train being fifty minutes late. Here a large number of school children had gathered to salute the vice president. Mr. Fairbanks spent some minutes shaking hands with the little ones.

BIG TIME FOR RICHMOND.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 31.—The Fairbanks meeting here tonight promises to be the largest meeting of the campaign in this district. Large crowds are gathering today. A public reception in honor of the vice president and Mr. Griffiths will be held after the meeting tonight.

CANNON BACK AT GOMPERS.

Speaker Says He is Not the Enemy of Union Labor.

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 31.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the national house of representatives, in a political address here yesterday, replied to the charges made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He said he was not an opponent of union labor.

"An enemy of union labor," expostulated "Uncle Joe," "why the opposition is talking about division of profits, while for thirty-two years I have stood by principles that make it possible for industry to have profits to divide. Capital has organized to keep pace with industrial developments. Labor must also organize. No man, living or dead, ever heard me say otherwise."

When he reached this portion of his address Speaker Cannon stalked angrily back and forth across the platform and struck the speaker's table several resonant whacks. "I had intended to reserve this comment for my constituents," he concluded.

Mr. Cannon went direct from here to his home in the Eighteenth Illinois district.

HOPE RIVER BARS PEST.

Cotton Boll Weevil Due to Cross the Mississippi This Fall.

New Orleans, Oct. 31.—Search to determine whether the boll weevil has crossed the Mississippi river from Louisiana into the state of Mississippi, was begun today in the vicinity of Natchez by officials of the state crop pest commission. At the beginning of the year it was announced by government experts that the weevil would make its first crossing of the Mississippi this fall, as it was agreed that the river would prove no barrier to the pest's eastward progress. Recent cold weather, however, has retarded the migration and the present search is conducted under the hope that the weevil may be found still confined to the western side of the river.

INSURANCE MEN MEET AT SUPPER

HEAR C. W. ORR'S REPORT OF NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Friendly Meeting at Wayne Hotel Last Evening Attended by Agents and Examiners.

The life insurance underwriters of the city and a number of medical examiners from Fort Wayne were present at the supper last evening at the Wayne hotel, which preceded the report given by C. W. Orr of the recent national convention of underwriters at St. Louis. During the course of his remarks Mr. Orr stated that the future was bright for life insurance agents, that the people of the country had forgotten about the recent agitation concerning the management of the large insurance companies and that it was now up to the agents to forget it.

"The proposed legislation enactment in the state of New York cutting down the agents' commission will work no hardship on life underwriters as a whole," said Mr. Orr. "Naturally a number will be forced out of the business, but it is my opinion that the measure will prove to be beneficial to the majority. The complexity of modern life makes life insurance a necessity and the cut in commission will serve to make the business of underwriting take on a more aggressive and sounder character."

Other Speakers of Evening.

W. P. Cooper, who presided at the meeting, stated the period of construction in life insurance matters had now been entered upon and that the recent period of destruction was now passed. Dr. A. P. Buchman spoke on "The Relation of the Medical Examiner to the Company," and Dr. McOscar addressed the meeting on "The Relation of the Medical Examiner to the Agent and His Duty to the Applicant."

The supper was quite a success and it is believed that it will aid in bringing the local agents into more friendly relations. The affair will probably be repeated and a series of similar gatherings may be inaugurated.

The following men were present at the supper:

Clark Fairbank, of the Penn. Mutual; W. P. Cooper, of the New York Life; J. L. Scott, of the Prudential; H. B. Hunt, of the Northwestern; J. E. Beahler, of the Travelers; J. W. Cashman, of the Union Mutual; J. F. Conway, of the Metropolitan; C. B. Fitch, of the National of Vermont; W. M. Leedy, of the Manhattan; D. C. Fitch, of the John Hancick; C. D. Wilson, of the Mutual Benefit; C. W. Church, of the Connecticut Mutual, and Charles W. Orr, of the Aetna, and Drs. A. P. Buchman, J. M. Dinnen, S. H. Havice, G. B. M. Bower, E. J. McOscar, John Schilling, C. R. Dancer, Bud Van Sweringen, W. D. Calvin and E. E. Morgan. Messrs. C. R. Lane, of the News, and Mr. Burrough, of the Journal-Gazette, and a Sentinel representative were present in behalf of the press.

Drs. H. Van Sweringen and M. F. Porter sent regrets, both being unavoidably detained from the meeting.

IS CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION.

Finance Minister in Laurier Cabinet Wants Vindication.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 31.—There is much interest throughout Canada in the bye-election which is being held today in the Queens-Shelburne district of this province to fill the vacancy in the federal parliament caused by the unseating of Hon. W. S. Fielding, finance minister in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's cabinet, for irregularities committed by his agents in the general election. The minister is a candidate for re-election. His opponent is Dr. R. C. Weldon, dean of the law school of Dalhousie university and a former member of parliament.

In two recent bye-elections in Ontario and one in Quebec county, for many years a Laurier stronghold, the government candidates were defeated and it is partly on this account that the liberals are making strenuous efforts to make a good showing in Queens-Shelburne county today.

REPUDIATES BURGESS' VIEW.

Roosevelt Does Not Believe Monroe Doctrine is Obsolete.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The sentiments expressed by Professor John W. Burgess, the first incumbent of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history and instruction at the University of Berlin, last Saturday, in which, in effect, he declared that the Monroe doctrine is almost obsolete in the United States, are not those held by the administration.

At the white house yesterday it was said that Professor Burgess is simply a private citizen, holding no official position from this government. His observation regarding the Monroe doctrine, it was said, was simply an expression of his own personal views, which are diametrically opposite to those held by the administration and the American people.

ON 10,000 MILE AUTOMOBILE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gehr and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Canfield, of Wenatchee, Wash., are in the city today on a ten thousand mile automobile trip from their home across the continent to New York city, thence down the Atlantic coast to Florida, encircling the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico and returning via the Southern and Pacific coast. The party has been en route since June 4 and have covered the four thousand miles to Fort Wayne without accident.

CONDITION IS BETTER.

The condition of venerable Brother Simeon, of the Brothers' school, who is confined to the St. Joseph hospital, is somewhat improved today. The news of Brother Simeon's illness has caused wide-spread regret among his pupils and former scholars throughout the city.

COUNT BONI WAS A GAY LOTHARIO

Gave Love Wireless Kiss on Neck and Wondered If She Felt It.

CASTELLANE DIVORCE

She That Was Anna Gould Sues Her French Count No Account—Case is Interesting.

Paris, Oct. 31.—The Castellane divorce case was heard this afternoon before M. Henry Ditte, president of the tribunal of first instance of the Seine. Neither the count nor the countess was present. Maitre Cruppi, for the countess, pleaded for a divorce on the documentary evidence submitted.

In an extended review counsel declared that the countess at the beginning of the suit was not acting under influence, but solely for the purpose of ending forever the peril of the moral desolation of her household. He explained the marriage contract, by which the regime of separation of property was established from the very beginning, and stated that domestic difficulties are over the question of money. Ill treatment soon followed, the count even striking the plaintiff before the servants.

Question of Infidelity.

When he reached the question of infidelity charged against the count, Maitre Cruppi did not mention names, or even initials, designating the co-respondents as "MadameA," "Madame B" and so on.

Maitre Cruppi asked that the countess be given the custody of her three children.

Counsel for the countess spoke for an hour and a half, and had not finished when the court took a recess. Counsel's presentation of the case of the plaintiff constituted a complete and pitiful story, a wreck of her married life, due primarily to the count's inordinate extravagance. Even in spite of their domestic infelicity, the countess was too good and scrupulous to begin an action for divorce until she possessed full proof. She was only twenty when she was married in 1895, and Maitre Cruppi asserted the happiness of the honeymoon was disturbed on their arrival in Paris by the count's demands for money. The countess' income was then $700,000 and the count allowed her $80 pin money.

Family Conference Necessary.

By 1899 the countess' interest, M. Cruppi said, were so heavily compromised by the count's extravagance, that it necessitated a family meeting in New York and the appointment of a legal trustee. But the difficulties regarding money were unceasing, and in order to obtain funds the count pawned or sold at ridiculous prices the most costly objects. When the countess protested, the count abused her in the presence of servants and when she declined to attach her signature to documents he sometimes struck her, the first time four months after her marriage.

In the course of pleading M. Cruppi protested against the "malicious reports in regard to the countess' intentions" and announced that she would leave France for America immediately after a divorce is granted her.

Liasons With Married Women.

In recounting the count's infidelity, the first instance cited by counsel was that with a married woman, described as "Madame A," in 1898. The correspondence was conducted through M. Moret, the count's secretary. The countess accidentally discovered in the Castellane chateau, a packet of love letters and when she protested the count struck her. The countess eventually placed the letters in the custody of a lawyer.

M. Cruppi read passionate extracts from one of the love letters, fixing a rendezvous at Dijon. It read:

"I am kissing you on the neck. Do you feel it?" and so on.

Counsel also detailed liasons with "Madame B" and "Madame C" whom the count met in apartments which he rented in different parts of Paris. M. Cruppi had not finished his presentation of the case when the hearing was adjourned until next week.

TO REPORT ON CHILD LABOR.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster Will Investigate Conditions for President.

Washington, Oct. 31.—By direction of President Roosevelt Mrs. J. Ellen Foster has been detailed from the department of justice to investigate the condition of women and child workers throughout the country. Legislation on this subject is pending before congress. Mrs. Foster went to the Philippines with the Taft party and represented the United States government at the International Red Cross conference in St. Petersburg.

PREACHERS SCORE SINGING.

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 31.—The Ministerial association of this city has declared in a resolution that the modern choir is godless, modern anthems absurd, the choirs being full of atheists and the anthems mere twaddle. The association favors congregational singing.

BOYS TO GIVE COMEDY.

Classes 5 and 6, of the Cathedral boys' school, will render a three act comedy, "The Rogue Outwitted," at Library hall November 22 for the benefit of the school. A number of excellent specialties will also be given during the course of the evening.

DRAGGING CARS FROM THE WATER

ATLANTIC CITY DEAD NUMBER SIXTY NOW.

One Car Remains in Water and It is Expected Bodies Will Be Found In It.

Atlantic City, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Several light charges of dynamite were today exploded under the two submerged cars in the Thoroughfare in the hope of breaking the coupling, but the effort was in vain, the divers being unable to get the charges in the proper place. The wrecking crews are now trying to drag the cars ashore, a distance of two hundred feet.

No bodies have been discovered since the corpses of two women were found yesterday. It is believed, however, that there are bodies wedged in the cars.

From a card found in his pocket, the one unidentified man is believed to be William Brannon. He is supposed to have a brother in Cleveland, Ohio.

The dead number between fifty-eight and sixty, and it is believed the latter figure will not be exceeded.

The second car of the wrecked electric train was later lifted to the railway bridge, but no more bodies were discovered. The last of the three cars which were plunged into the Thoroughfare on Sunday will be lifted to the bridge tonight and it is thought that one or two bodies may be found in it.

IRON WORKERS STRIKE.

Structural Men Employed by Steel Trust Quit Work.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Structural iron workers employed on new buildings in course of erection by the United States Steel company at Joliet and South Chicago struck today in the effort to "unionize" the company's new town of Gary, Ind. The United States Steel company has declared in favor of the open shop and the ironworkers now employed at Gary are receiving such high wages that they have refused to organize. The strikers at Joliet and South Chicago were then ordered to strike by the labor leaders in the belief that if the subsidiary plants of the steel company were crippled the men at Gary would be compelled to join the union.

ONE MINER KILLED; ONE HURT.

Princeton, Ind., Oct. 31.—Thomas Farrell was instantly killed and William Downer was seriously injured today while blasting in the mines owned by the Princeton Coal company. The men were firing a "break-through shot" to connect two rooms. They sat down in the room adjoining the one in which the shot was prepared and the blast, breaking through, threw Farrell with great force against a prop, crushing his skull. Downer escaped with a number of cuts.

ROOSEVELTS LEAVE CAPITAL.

Washington, Oct. 31.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt left Washington at 11:15 o'clock today over the Southern railroad for an outing at Pine Knot, Mrs. Roosevelt's country home in Albemarle county, Virginia. They will return to Washington Sunday evening.

Surgeon General Rixey, of the navy, and M. C. Latta, one of the assistant secretaries at the white house, accompanied the president and Mrs. Roosevelt.

MILITARY CLUB.

This afternoon there will be a meeting of the local veterans of the Philippine insurrection in the office of Sergeant Bard, the local army recruiting officer, above the Aurentz candy store, for the purpose of organizing a military club. There are a number of veterans of the insurrection in the city and it is hoped to have a large number in the organization.

MAY HAVE LEOPOLD ARRESTED.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 31.—A dispatch from Boone, Iowa, says: A man giving the name of Charles Williams, who was arrested here last night, is thought to be Leonard Leopold, the alleged accomplice of the murderer of Margaret Leslie, the Chicago actree. The description of Leopold sent by the Chicago police, tallies with that of the man under arrest.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Ironmountain, Mich., Oct. 31.—As as a result of a head-on collision between a train used in transporting men back and forth to the trader's mine, four miles north of here, and a heavy freight on the Milwaukee road, Joseph Crepaner, Charles Morrell and Leonardo Gally, were killed outright and a number of others seriously injured.

SLAUGHTERED BY TRIBESMEN.

Zeungaria, Oct. 31.—News was received here today that a French camel patrol, consisting of one officer and sixty men was surprised and annihilated by a Senoissa force at the end of August, 200 miles north of Lake Thad.

SWITCHMEN MAY STRIKE.

Scranton, Penn., Oct. 31.—Their demands for an eight hour day and increased wages having been refused by General Superintendent Clark, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western switchmen's committee is in session behind closed doors here today.

BIG FOUR TO IMPROVE.

Cincinnati, Oct. 31.—The Cleveland, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis railway stockholders today voted an increase of $10,000,000 in the common stock for permanent improvements.

Lopshire's orchestra will give its social Saturday night at the home of Louis A. Lopshire.

RUMORS OF FIGHT WITH UGLY UTES

Troops Said to Have Come Into Collision With Braves in Wyoming.

UTES ON THE MOVE

Rebellious Tribe is Going to Join the Cheyennes, Who Are Said to Be Well Armed.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—Rumors of a fight between the troops and the Utes in Wyoming have reached here. No details have been received and nothing to confirm these rumors. At military headquarters here the rumors are discredited, no official advices of that kind having been received.

UTES TO JOIN CHEYENNES.

Start is Made and It is Believed the Junction Will Be Made.

Sheridan, Wyo., Oct. 31.—The Utes have crossed the Wyoming line and are apparently making for Ashland, appointed as a meeting place with the Cheyennes.

They are going down Hanging Women creek and will reach its mouth on Tongue river near Birney, probably tonight. The troops under Colonel Augur left Sheridan today but will not be able to reach Birney before tomorrow night. Unless the Utes are headed off by troops coming overland from Fort Keogh, they may join the Cheyennes Friday night. Fort Keogh troops are expected at Ashland tonight.

Two additional companies of Fort Mackenzie infantry will be started from here tomorrow.

An effort is being made to mount them. Ranchmen living near Ashland arriving here today say that the report that all the Cheyenne warriors are at work on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway construction is a mistake.

Ranchmen say the tribe would muster six hundred armed and mounted warriors.

HUSBAND SPENDS LIVELY SESSION

SIX MONTHS OF MARRIED LIFE FULL OF WOES.

Wife Wished Him Dead and Threatened to Poison Him—General News of Courts.

Christian Christiansen spent a lively session of six months as the husband of Ada Christiansen and today he asked the judge of the superior court to sever the matrimonial alliance between him and his wife. They were wed Nov. 15, 1904, and separated the following March.

He alleges that his wife called him a bloody pig and some other names that will not go through the mails, threatened to poison him and frequently wished him dead. He also charges that she visited him at places where he had engagements as a musician and called him bad names in the presence of his associates. R. B. Dreibelbiss filed the suit.

Wrens Want Separation.

Caroline E. Wren has asked a divorce from William B. Wren and alleges that he deserted her a year ago and has not supported her since. They were married in November, 1898, and she charges that during their married life he cursed her and threatened to kill her. Bittinger and Houk are attorneys.

Got a Decree.

Florence Miller obtained a decree in the superior court this morning from Alvin Miller whom she charged with desertion. The judgment was rendered by J. B. Harper as special judge.

Award the Contract.

The county commissioners today awarded the contracts for heating, wiring and plumbing at the new wing of the county infirmary to Hattersley & Son at their bids of $674.18 for heating, $424.95 for plumbing and $113.26 for wiring. No other bids were submitted.

Bids were also received for 150 beds for the infirmary on which Pickard Bros bid $795, D. N. Foster Furniture company $793 and Wolf & Dessauer $670. The contract was awarded to Wolf & Dessauer.

BIG DAY FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.

George T. Webb, of Chicago, to Speak at First Baptist Church.

Sunday, Nov. 4, George T. Webb, of Chicago, the international secretary of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union of America, will address three meetings at the First Baptist church. At 3 p. m. there will be a mass meeting, participated in by all the young peoples' societies of the city. At 6:30 the regular weekly meeting of the Baptist young people will be held and Mr. Webb will give a short talk. At 7:30 a young peoples' rally will be held. Mr. Webb is one of the most gifted speakers in the west, whom to hear is an inspiration. While he comes as a representative of the B. Y. P. U., he has a message for all other young peoples' societies, and all who are interested in the work are invited to hear him.

Mrs. M. H. Hobbs, of Muncie, who had been spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. O'Meara, of Fourth street, has returned home.

The Young Widow.

She is modest, but not bashful;
Free and easy, but not bold;
Like an apple—ripe and mellow;
Not too young and not too old;
Half inviting, half repulsive,
Now advancing and now shy;
There is mischief in her dimple;
There is danger in her eye.

She has studied human nature;
She is schooled in all her arts;
She has taken her diploma
As the mistress of all hearts;
She can tell the very moment
When to sigh and when to smile.
Oh, a maid is sometimes charming,
But the widow all the while!

Are you sad? How very serious
Will her handsome face become!
Are you angry? She is wretched,
Lonely, friendless, tearful, dumb.
Are you mirthful? How her laughter,
Silver sounding, will ring out!
She can lure and catch and play you
As the angler does the trout.

You old bachelors of forty,
Who have grown so bold and wise;
Young Americans of twenty,
With the love locks in your eyes,
You may practice all your lessons
Taught by Cupid since the fall,
But I know a little widow
Who could win and fool you all.
—Robert Josselyn in Philadelphia Bulletin.

Had Pity For the Dog.

A traveler in the highlands observed while at a tavern in a small village a very beautiful collie. At his request the owner was pointed out to him, and he asked the man what he would take for the dog.

"Ye'll be taking him to America?" the Scot asked cautiously.

"Certainly, if you will sell him to me."

"I no coul' part wie Rob," the dog's owner then said emphatically. "I'm muckle fondlike o' him," and liberal offers were no inducements.

To his astonishment the traveler later saw the dog sold to a drover for half what he had offered and, after the drover had disappeared, requested an explanation. "You said that you could not sell him," he remarked.

A twinkle came into the highlander's eyes.

"No, I didna say I'd no sell him—I said I couldna part wie him," he said. "Rob'll be hame in two or three days fra no, but I couldna ask him to swim across the ocean. Na, that woul' be too muckle to ask!"—Rochester Herald.

Kinsey & Co. to Move Into New Quarters

PIANO HOUSE WILL OPEN NEW HOME ON CALHOUN STREET TOMORROW.

The J. F. Kinsey & Co. piano store, now located at Calhoun and Superior streets, is to have a new home. The firm has leased quarters at 927 Calhoun street, in the Fox building, and will be ready for business tomorrow.

Prof Kinsey, the head of the firm, is a widely known music man. He was at one time the president of the Echo Music company, of Chicago, and during his career in the music business has published thirty song books which have had a wide circulation.

The Ladies' Sewing society of Emmaus Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon at its assembly room and will be entertained by Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Droege, Mrs. Engelbrecht and Mrs. Franke.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Herrick, 512 East Wayne street, when a report of the branch meeting will be presented.

BONAPARTE GETS INTO CAMPAIGN

CABINET MEMBER DISCUSSES THE TRUSTS.

Not Wealth But the Manner of Getting and Using It is to Be Deprecated.

Denton, Md., Oct. 31.—Secretary Bonaparte spoke today at a meeting in the interests of William H. Jamison, the republican nominee for congress in the First district of Maryland. Mr. Bonaparte's speech was a plea for the continuation of the next house of representatives in republican hands. He quoted figures showing the increase of the foreign commerce of the country since 1896 when the republicans came into power, in support of his contention that the national prosperity was due to republican administration. "But this very prosperity," he continued, "is the source of some serious embarrassment. When a nation grows rich the individuals who make up that nation grow rich also and in such cases some of these individuals always grow far richer than others. We have developed a crop of Croesuses without precedent in history and moreover the long distance telephone, the ocean cable and the development of corporate agencies enable these multimillionaries to unite their wealth in huge combinations which threaten the commercial liberties of their fellow citizens and even bid defiance to our laws."

Likens Trusts to Pen of Pigs.

Mr. Bonaparte likened the trusts to a pen of pigs in which the big, strong, over-fed hog crowded the little ones away from their feed and got far more than its share. He continued:

"Our big, strong, greedy, over-prosperous trusts are animals of the like order. They crowd their smaller and weaker fellows from the feeding trough so that these don't get their fair share of our national prosperity. The problem is how to so fence off the great beasts so as to give the little ones a show.

"The democrats propose to cut off the supply of swill, or in other words, to destroy our prosperity by unsettling all our business relations. No doubt this process would soon make the big hogs as thin as razor-backs, but would the small ones fare any better?

"Remember we don't complain of the former because they are themselves big and fat, but because they make others small and thin. The fatter the big pigs become the better for their owner and the more money the trusts make the better for the American people provided in the one case all the little pigs get fat too, or, at all events as fat as these can and in the other that all dealers outside of the trusts have a fair field and the trusts have no favor.

Square Deal for All.

"Our president wants and has always wanted a square deal for every one, whether pig, lion or man and under his leadership the republican party has tried to put and keep each of our trusts in its own proper pen where it cannot crowd any of the little fellows around it. To these ends he has asked the aid of congress and of the courts to keep the corporate and individual wealth of the country in due subjection to the law, not to make rich men poor for to do this, would only make poor men poorer, but to make rich men law abiding so that poor men may become rich if they will. And the two houses of congress as well as the courts have responded to his appeal."

LARGE ATTENDANCE.

The attendance at the annual slag card party of the local branch of the Catholic Benevolent league of Indiana, in the Saengerbund hall last evening, was well attended, over 300 persons being present. The affair was in charge of the following committee: George Christen, chairman; Henry W. Kohrman, Joseph P. Disser, Ben Kossman and Frank J. Federspiel, secretary. The following men won the forty-one prizes offered: J. H. Harber, Frank Luley, George Miller, George Aubrey, Henry Kanning, L. P. Galland, J. E. Casey, H. C. Kramer, H. Ahrens, John Reinhart, John B. Roth, Joseph Kirk, J. M. Koehl, Luke Otten, John Bushman, D. C. Stout, John Palmer, F. DeWald, John Zimmerman, C. Kaufmann, J. B. Blalsing, T. Schmitz, W. S. Knapp, J. Costello, I. Freiburger, L. Funny Sayings at The Minstrel Show

Interlocutor—Well, Mr. Bones, I understand you're working now.

Bones—Who is be?

"Who's who?"

"This man Now you speak of."

"You don't understand me. I mean I hear you're earning your living now."

"Oh, yes; I'm hanging around a butcher shop."

"Hanging around?"

"Yes. I hang the meat on the hooks. I'm going to quit though. I don't like the butcher. He's too snobbish."

"Does he snub you?"

"No, but he cuts the meat every day. I've got the laziest brother on earth. He's just like a successful airship."

"Why is he like a successful airship?"

"He won't work."

Interlocutor—Mr. Tambo, I hear you have bought a setter dog.

Tambo—Yes, and he's the smartest dog I ever saw.

"That so?"

"Yes. Last night at supper time he went into the dining room and set the table. My sister has had three husbands all named William."

"She's a wonder, isn't she?"

"No; she's a Bill collector. She left her last husband."

"You mean Will Smith?"

"Yes. There's something funny about it too."

"What?"

"She wasn't dead, and yet she left a Will. Ed Rice has a horse that's a bright animal."

"He has?"

"Yes. Last night Ed was riding the horse, and he passed a bride and groom in a hack. What do you suppose that horse did?"

"I don't know. Tell us what he did."

"He threw Rice."—Denver Post.

The late Frederic R. Coudert, the noted lawyer and wit, had a great kindness for children. He collected indefatigably the quaint sayings of children, and one of the treasures of his library was a small manuscript volume filled with definitions that children had composed. This volume was called "A Child's Dictionary," and these are some of the definitions that Mr. Coudert would read from the book:

"Dust—Mud with the juice squeezed out of it."

"Snoring—Letting off sleep."

"Backbiter—A mosquito."

"Fan—A thing to brush the warm off with."

"Ice—Water that went to sleep in the cold."

"Apples—The bubbles that apple trees blow."—Judge's Magazine of Fun.

"Oh," replied the scrupulously polite Hindoo, "the young sahib shot divinely, but Providence was very merciful to the birds."—Tit-Bits.

IMPORTANCE OF SALVATION.

Eloquent Paulist at Cathedral Heard in Powerful Discourse.

The first evening sermon of the series being given by Rev. Patrick J. MacCorry, the eloquent and gifted Paulist missionary, at the Cathedral during the observance of the devotion of the Forty Hours, was heard last night by an immense congregation that taxed the seating capacity of the spacious auditorium. Father MacCorry's theme was "Salvation: Its Importance and the Means of Attaining It." Taking for his text "Yet forty days and Ninivch shall be no more," he presented a graphic view of the great and grand and powerful city on the banks of the Tigris that was to be doomed for its iniquities, but whose inhabitnats, listening to the messenger of God, turned from their evil ways and repented. Like the prophets of old, the messengers who preached penance to the people, are the ministers of God, who today preach Christ crucified, exhorting souls to turn from their iniquities unto faith and salvation. The value of the soul, as Almighty God values it, was beautifully and powerfully dwell upon by the gifted theologian, who also made a powerful and touching appeal for recognition of the fact that the salvation of man's immortal soul is the most essential thing to be remembered and urged his many hearers to be urgent, importunate, active in their endeavors to follow the path of righteousness and truth.

This morning high mass was sung by Rev. Robt. Pratt, of Wabash, followed by a brief sermon by Father MacCorry, who treated of "The Observance of the Sunday." This evening the missionary will deliver a sermon on "The Occasions of Sin," and at the solemn closing of devotion tomorrow evening will be heard in one of his masterpieces, "Heaven."

Here's the Solution—It's J. P. Morgan's and A. Belmo nt's Number.

OFFICES OF AUGUST BELMONT & CO. OFFICES OF J. P. MORGAN & CO.

New York, Oct. 31.—All the favorite explanations as to how "23" came into the world have been in vain. Every guesser as to the origin of the fateful "skiddoo" number is doomed to disappointment.

The man who dug up the Mexican penal code and found that section 23 therein contained prescribed banishment for the offender under that particular section has had all his work for naught.

The sporting man who declared that the twenty-third horse in a race was always scratched and that, therefore, "23" could properly claim its birth from the race track is also among the false prophets.

The true reason for twenty-three being the number that stands for "skiddoo," "vamoose," "scat," "clear out" and other slang terms equivalent to an order to any one to make themselves scarce, has been discovered.

The reason for "twenty-three" has been staring a million persons in the face for many, many years and yet no one guessed it. When inspector Byrnes, famous for his "dead line" in Wall street at the intersection of Broad street, posted his central office men on that corner to make it impossible for a crook to get further south than the financial thoroughfare, he did not guess that a quarter of a century later he would cause the nation to be shaken by the mysterious combination of twenty-three. And yet there it stands—the reason!

Right opposite to the habitual lounging corner of the three faithful central office men stands "23" in bold relief. It glares everyone in the face as he passes southward and stands as a perpetual warning to the crook who would dare to cross the famous Byrnes' dead line.

Over the faithful "23" stands the name of J. P. Morgan. As the crook turns to go back and retraces his steps through Nassau street the avenging finger of "23" still follows him. In the doorway of the office of August Belmont is the other "skiddoo" number, and it is on record that no beggars have dared to cross the Belmont, or the Morgan thresholds for that matter, since the agitation of "23" epidemic in New York.

Although his declaration is not a matter of record, it is said that Mr. Morgan, when his attention was called to the mystic number over his office door after the "skiddoo number" became a fad, remarked that it would be the best possible guard against beggars and cranks. Beggars and cranks are superstitious to a degree and the big "23" that stares them in the face as they ascend the Morgan steps is enough to make them hesitate—and he who hesitates is lost.

HEARST'S LEAGUE WINS LEGAL FIGHT

COURT OF APPEALS SAYS IT CAN NOMINATE BY PETITION.

All Ticket Not Affected—Ruling on Point Only of Filing Multiple Certificates.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The court of appeals at 11:15 o'clock last night handed down a decision upholding the "multiple" certificate of nomination of the Independence league in New York county, which the appellate division last week threw out. The court on this point says:

"The sole question involved in these appeals is whether when certificates for independent nominations are required to be filed in the same office, any one of such certificates shall be held invalid because it is made for the nomination of more than one candidate, the electors making it being qualified to make a certificate for the nomination of all the candidates mentioned therein.

Statutes Not Against Certificates.

"We find nothing in the statute which forbids nominating certificates of this character, nor does there seem to be any practical ground which would be fatal to their validity. This is in accordance with repeated decisions of this court, and of the appellate division, that the election law should be construed liberally to give effect to the will of the people.

"These views lead to a reversal of the order of the appellate division in these cases and to the affirmance of the order of the special term."

Restores Candidates to Ticket.

The foregoing ruling puts these candidates in the Independence league column, from which they were ruled out by the appellate division because they were on a multiple certificate:

Edward J. Hannah, labor and Independence league, eighteenth assembly district; Francis E. Shaver (Tammany), seventeenth congressional district; Sherman S. Morand (Tammany), eighteenth senate district; Charles V. Fornes (Tammany), eleventh congressional district; William Shomer (Tammany), twelfth senatorial district; Henry M. Goldfogle (Tammany), ninth congressional district.

As to the other candidates thrown out by the appellate division the court of appeals held that it had no jurisdiction to review the decisions, because other objections than the "multiple" one had been raised to the petitions before the board of elections. These other objections the appellate division did not consider at all, but had merely thrown them out under the "multiple" certificate ruling.

Refuses to Rule on All Points.

Ordinarily under such circumstances the court of appeals would have remitted these cases to the appellate division and directed it to pass on the other questions on their merits, but Chief Justice Cullen declined to do this because the effect would be to throw everything into what he termed inextricable confusion. The court, therefore, dismissed all of the other appeals except in the judiciary cases, where the decision of the appellate division was in all respects affirmed.

As a result of four of the appeals being dismissed by the court of appeals last night these names will also go in the column of the Independence league:

Francis B. Harrison (Tammany), nineteenth congressional district; James A. Frawley (Tammany), twentieth senate district; Leopold Prince (Tammany), twenty-sixth assembly district; James V. Gandy (Tammany), twenty-fourth assembly district.

David B. Hill appeared to argue for the leaguers.

FEAR BARGE AND CREW LOST.

Lake Craft and Seven Men Went Adrift on Lake.

Alpena, Mich., Oct. 31.—It is feared that the two-masted barge Thomas A. Cahoon, owned in Saginaw, is lost with a crew of seven men. The Cahoon was in tow of the steamer Homer Warren and anchored off Thunder bay island Saturday night. The Cahoon broke loose during the height of the gale and drifted out into Lake Huron. It is possible that the barge may have drifted across the lake to the Canadian shore, but vesselmen do not think that the boat could have lived in the gale.

NEW YORK POLICE RAID ANARCHISTS

GATHERING OF REDS MARKED BY INCENDIARY SPEECHES.

Emma Goldman Among Those Present and She Gave the Police a Lively Scrimmage.

New York, Oct. 31.—A meeting of anarchists was raided and broken up by a large body of police about 10 o'clock last night at the Manhattan Lyceum, 66 East Fourth street. The wildest kind of a riot followed when the police stormed the hall. The women screamed, "Down with the police," "Kill the oppressors," and a few other such things.

When the men quailed the women themselves led the charge on the police that was hot while it lasted. Many officers were badly scratched and punched.

Ten of the anarchists were arrested, among them Emma Goldman, who tackled a cop, making good until other officers rescued their battered fellow raider.

Nab Chief Agitator.

The meeting was a continuation of one the police broke up on Forsyth street a week ago. This meeting like that one was called to discuss Czolgosz and praise him as a martyr. Julius Edelsen had hired the hall, called the meeting, and was the principal speaker. Just as he took the platform fifteen central office men under the lead of Detective Sergeant Braun slipped into the hall and took up places at various points. Capt. Shaw with twenty-five cops in uniform marched to the front of the building to await developments. Edelsen began in this way, according to Sergeant Braun:

"I have many things to say, but first of all I wish to explain anarchy. Now, there are two kinds of anarchists. One class desires peace. But all anarchists do not want the kind of peace that is prescribed by law. The time will come when we will throw away ballot boxes and take things in hand ourselves."

According to Sergeant Braun, Edelsen went on to speak of Czolgosz. He pictured the slayer of President McKinley as a martyr who had been wronged.

Sergeant Braun then decided that the new law enacted to cover criminal anarchy had been violated and he called upon the cops to get busy. Central office men leaped to the platform and grabbed Edelsen.

Women Lead in Fight.

In an instant there was a great uproar. Women made the most noise. One cried out to the men to kill the police and a mob surged toward the central office men. The police had a difficult time in clearing the hall. Women, and they comprised nearly half the audience, flew at the policemen, scratching and tearing at them, at the same time shouting that the cops should be killed.

The greatest trouble was made by Lena Sweet, 20 years old, a Russian living at 104 East Fourth street. She pitched into every cop that came near her. Finally she centered her activity on Policeman Morris Schwartz, and he was a sorry looking sight when the other cops dragged the frantic woman away to the street.

Emma Goldman was arrested by a cop who recognized her. She made quite a struggle, but was hustled down stairs to the station. Edelsen was hurried out of the hall, as was Lena Sweet. One of those arrested gave her name as Annie Pastor. Some one started the story that she was related to Mrs. J. G. Phelps Stokes, but this was denied.

VOL. LXVIII ..... NO. 77

Entered at the Postoffice, Fort Wayne, Ind., as second-class mail matter.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 31, 1906.

TONIGHT.

Fraternal.—Fort Wayne council, No. 4, R. and S. M.; Fort Wayne chapter, No. 19, R. A. M.; Mechecaunnochqua Tribe, No. 106, I. O. R. M.; Concordia, No. 288, I. O. O. F.; Eagles; Fort Wayne, No. 19, A. O. U. W.; Daughters of Workmen, No. 1; Allen lodge, No. 28, Degree of Honor.

Amusements.—Masonic Temple theater, vaudeville.

The heyday of the gentle roorback is just beginning. When you hear one making its peculiar noise just hit it on the head.

Vice President Fairbanks is touring the state to get up counter-enthusiasm to that set aflame by William J. Bryan. The vice president is a great kindler.

Senator Beveridge is always sure of a warm welcome from his Fort Wayne friends and his coming this week will mark no exception. Two years ago when an effort was made to eclipse the then junior senator by running in the republican vice presidential candidate ahead of him, his friends rallied and on very short notice gave him as splendid a reception as the conceit of any man could crave.

Nathan Straus, the New York millionaire business man and philanthropist, has come out squarely in support of Hearst, explaining himself with the declaration that a change is needed in the spirit of administrative government and that there is work for a man holding Hearst's ideas and adhering to the principles that Hearst believes in. This addition to the Hearst forces will have effect. Mr. Straus is greatly esteemed and in politics is ranked as a conservative.

Announcement comes from Panama that the canal zone municipalities will raise the cost of liquor licenses to $1,200 a year after November 1, next. It is expected that this high tax will shut up all the rum shops and practically suspend the liquor traffic along the line of the canal. Such a consummation is on all accounts much to be desired. Alcoholic stimulants indulged in to any excess whatever is one of the worst practices that a temperate zone man can indulge while sojourning in the tropic climate of the isthmus. To their excessive indulgence in wine and spirits is ascribed the appalling mortality among the French workmen during the DeLesseps regime on the canal. If the sale of liquor can be abolished in the canal zone a long step will be taken to conserve the health of northern men who go down to work on the great waterway.

There has been a decline of nearly 2,500,000 barrels of beer in the annual consumption of the United Kingdom during the past six years, notwithstanding that the population increased by 2,000,000. Official figures for the fiscal year 1906 give the amount retained for consumption at 33,504,000 barrels, or 27.9 gallons per capita. The decline of 11 per cent. has taken place entirely in the English and Scottish consumption, since that of Ireland exhibits a slight actual increase over the six years previous. That the people of the United Kingdom are not making up for their beer frugality by imbibing more spirits is shown by the statistics, from which it appears that the total amount of consumption of spirits decreased from 1.1 proof gallons to nine-tenths of a gallon. The spirits retained for consumption in the 1906 fiscal year was 34,487,000 gallons of homemade and 6,735,000 foreign. Measured by the population the decline in the amount of British spirits consumed is about 15 per cent., whereas in respect to foreign spirits it is about 29 per cent. Furthermore, the practice of private brewing has decreased enormously in the last decade. The sale of beer to the trade is being centered in the hands of the large producers. English journals draw as a deduction from these figures that the habits of their people are improving. The British are evidently giving up alcoholic drinks more and more and becoming still greater tea drinkers, their imports of tea for home consumption having been for the first seven months of 1906 155,767,710 pounds, an increase of over 10,000,000 pounds above the same period in 1905.

FILES SUIT IN EQUITY.

Chicago Concern Alleges Infringement of Its Patent.

The Alwin Manufacturing company, of Chicago, has filed in the federal court in Fort Wayne a suit against the Mishawaka Folding Go-Cart company, alleging infringement of patents in the manufacture of a perambulator. The Chicago concern asks accounting, injunction and damages.

Miss Maude Howey, of this city, has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of Graham & Evans.

WOMAN VIOLATES COMPULSORY LAW

IS EDUCATING CHILDREN BUT WORKS IT HER WAY.

Peculiar Conditions Revealed in City Court Trial—The Other Cases Tried.

Mrs. R. A. Mettert was in the city court this morning on the charge of failing to send her son, Raymond Mettert, to school and the conditions revealed the fact that the compulsory education law would have worked a great hardship had not Judge Skelton exercised his right to continue the case indefinitely.

Mrs. Mettert works for her own support and explained that she contracted a big medical bill during a recent illness and that the boy, who had been in charge of her sister, was brought here in September and got work in a hotel by which he earns his board and a small salary in addition. One daughter took a teachers' examination at Huntington but is too small to get a position and is now finishing her course in the local high school and is being aided by another daughter who has employment.

The mother was formerly a teacher and she devotes part of each day to instructing the boy and says he will be able to enter a grade when he returns to school as high as if he had attended during the term. She explained in detail her efforts to educate her family and indicated to the court that her single ambition is to have them well taught as she appreciates the value an education will be to them but it was shown that in accomplishing this she was forced for a time to commit a technical violation of the law. She is a widow without means other than her own earing capacity but has cared for and raised her family without aid and says she will educate them if the law will only permit her to work out the problem in her own way.

The Other Cases.

The case against Joe Staub was continued until November. Lillian Johnson, charged jointly with him, has not been arrested.

R. T. Rosenow, the patent right agent arrested Monday, asked a continuance until next week. His former employer is here and insists he had no right to sell Wambach any territory but the matter will in all probability be adjusted.

SEEK GOVERNMENT AID

To Clear Up Mystery of Disappearance of Two Children.

Moncton, N. B., Oct. 31.—In an effort to clear up the mystery of the disappearance of the two little children of Mr. and Mrs. John Creamer, who dropped out of sight five months ago, the provincial government has been called upon for aid. Under government direction it is hoped a search more extensive and systematic than any previously conducted will be made of the woods and swamps near Bayfield, Westmoreland county.

The two children, a boy and girl, aged 3 and 4 years respectively, left home one Sunday afternoon five months ago and have not since been seen. For weeks large parties of searchers from all over the county hunted vainly for them.

SEMI-ANNUAL INSPECTION.

The semi-annual inspection of battery B was held in the armory in the Saengerbund building last evening and nearly all of the members were in attendance. The inspection was conducted by First Lieutenant B. H. Oliver, of the artillery battalion staff, of Indianapolis. The inspection was very satisfactory.

PREPARING FOR ANNUAL COUNCIL

EPISCOPAL CLERGY AND LAITY TO ASSEMBLE HERE.

Notable Convention Will Be Held at Trinity Church Beginning Next Tuesday.

Preparations are well under way for the annual council of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan City, which is to be held in Fort Wayne next week, and the gathering will bring together nearly one hundred of the clergy and laity of the Episcopal church in northern Indiana, including Rt. Rev. Bishop John Hazen White, of Michigan City.

The convention will open with a session of the Woman's Auxiliary at Trinity church on Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday evening will be held a public service with sermon by Rev. Dr. Hulse, of New York, and an elaborate musical service by the boys' choir, augmented by the choir of the Howe Military academy, which comes to Fort Wayne for this occasion. At the close of the service a reception will be tendered the visitors by the vestry of Trinity church at the parish house.

Following early communion at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning will come the business session of the council at 10 o'clock, Bishop White presiding. It is expected that the council will complete its labors Wednesday evening.

NATHAN STRAUS IS FOR HEARST

New York Merchant and Philanthropist Says Change Is Needed.

New York, Oct. 31.—Nathan Straus, the wealthy merchant and philanthropist, in a letter to the Herald, announces that he will vote for W. R. Hearst. Mr. Straus writes:

"We need in the nation and in the states today a practical application of the principles for which William Randolp Hearst stands—the principles of honesty and independance in government. A change is needed, and it must come.

"The principles that Mr. Hearst stands for must inevitably prevail in this country. If they do not come through Mr. Hearst, they must come a few years later through some other leader. It is to the interest of us all that Mr. Hearst's services should be publicly recognized at the ballot box."

MONUMENT TO SEWARD.

Seattle Starts Movement to Erect Memorial to Statesman.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 31.—A movement has been inaugurated in Seattle to erect a monument to perpetuate the services of William Henry Seward, secretary of state under Lincoln and Johnson, by whom was negotiated the treaty with Russia whereby the United States acquired possession of the district of Alaska for a consideration of $7,200,000. It is proposed to erect by popular subscription a monument in the heart of the city to be unveiled on the same day that the Alaska-Yukon Pacific exposition is opened to the public, which is set for 1909.

Since the acquisition of Alaska by the United States more than $105,000,000 in gold has been dug out of the ground there and the gold discoveries were the beginning of Seattle's development.

HELD FUNERAL TODAY.

Funeral services for Nathaniel W. Stockbridge, the newspaper man who died at Hamilton Sunday evening from paralysis, were held this afternoon from the residence of a brother, Charles A. Stockbridge, 2323 South Webster street, and interment occurred at Lindenwood. Mr. Stockbridge was 41 years of age.

Arrival of Plankinton Heir Blow to Milwaukee Hospital.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 31.—By the birth yesterday of a son to Mr. and Mrs. William Woods Plankinton the Milwaukee Hospital association will lose a fortune of $5,000,000, bequeathed it on condition that there was born no male heir of the fourth generation.

The child born yesterday meets this requirement and unless it dies the money will not go to the hospital association.

Under the will of John Plankinton his entire estate would go to the hospital in the event no heir was born or was living at the death of the direct descendants, who are Miss Elizabeth Plankinton, daughter of John Plankinton, and William Woods Plankinton, son of the late William Plankinton and the only grandchild of John Plankinton.

There was naturally great rejoicing at the Plankinton home on Grand avenue upon the safe arrival of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Plankinton. The son was born at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. It is learned that mother and son are doing well and that the Plankinton heir is a healthy and promising boy.

MR. HOAR LOSES STRENGTH.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 31.—Representative E. Rockwood Hoar's condition showed no signs of improvement during last night. His physician stated today that Mr. Hoar was very seriously ill and that during the past day or two he had lost considerable strength.

STENSLAND LEAVES PRISON.

Convicted Banker in Chicago to Testify Against Hering.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Paul O. Stensland, the former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank and now a convict in the Joliet penitentiary, returned to Chicago today in the custody of an officer to testify in the trial of Henry W. Hering, the former cashier of the bank, whose trial commenced today.

At the opening of court it was thought that the greater part of the day would be consumed in the effort to obtain a jury. It is not expected that Stensland will take the stand for several days.

Soon after the case was called the attorneys for Hering announced that they desired to make a motion to quash the indictments and an opportunity to make arguments on the motion. If they were overruled in this, they declared, they will make application to the court for a change of venue on the ground that Hering cannot be given a fair trial in this county.

SECRETARY TO BE HERE.

RULES ON LAW FOR MEAT INSPECTION

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT INTERPRETS PROVISIONS.

Questions Arising Under "Labels," "Casings," and "Transportation" Decided.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—Some important rulings were announced yesterday by the department of agriculture under the meat inspection law. The rulings come under the heads of "Transportation," "Casings," "Labels," and "Definitions." The rulings provide as follows:

"No shipment of meat or meat food products shall be accepted for transportation in interstate commerce by any carrier until the carrier has received from the shipper a certificate in one of the forms prescribed in the regulations.

"When it is desired to divert a shipment of inspected and marked meat or meat food product from the original destination, such diversion may be made without a reinspection if a new certificate showing the changed destination be given to the carrier by the owner or shipper.

"The right of the farmer to ship in interstate or foreign commerce the carcasses of animals slaughtered on the farm is a right personal to the farmer, and applies to the shipment of carcasses of such animals in interstate or foreign commerce only when such carcasses are shipped by the farmer or his agent.

Curb on Wholesalers.

"Wholesale dealers who are not acting as agents for farmers, but who own carcasses of animals slaughtered by a farmer on the farm, may not reship said carcasses in interstate or foreign commerce.

"Reshipments of inspected meat and meat food products which are sound and wholesome at the time of reshipment may be made without reinspection when the meat or meat food products have not been pressed, other than by smoking, since they were originally shipped.

"The transportation of meat or meat food products from one point in a state or territory to another point in the same state or territory, when in course of shipment the meat or meat food product is taken through another state or territory, is interstate commerce and brings the transportation within the scope of the meat inspection law and regulations.

"Unfilled casings shall be regarded as containers and not as meat food products, but when such casings are to be exported to a foreign country which requires a certificate showing that the casings are products of animals which were free from contagious disease at the time of slaughter the necessary stamps and certificate will be issued by the inspector in charge.

Rulings as to Labels.

"Labels, or stickers, bearing the inspection legend, separate and apart from the trade label, may, under the supervision of a department employe, be used on inspected and passed meats which are wrapped in paper or cloth or which are placed in pasteboard containers. But no such label or stickers bearing an inspection legend can be used in establishments where inspection is not maintained.

"Products not classed as 'meat food products,' which are prepared at establishments where inspection is not maintained and which contain small quantities of meats which have been inspected and passed under the meat inspection law, and no other meats, may bear a label with a personal statement of the manufacturer that the meat contained therein has been inspected and passed at an establishment where inspection is maintained.

"No label will be approved for use after Jan. 1 next which contains an incorrect or false statement of the weight of the package, or which does not show that the weight, if given, is net or gross.

"When the words 'meat' or 'meat food products' are used in the regulations or rulings of the secretary of agriculture they mean meat or meat food products of cattle, sheep, swine, or goats, and do not include meat or meat food products of other animals.

"Nonedible grease and nonedible tallow derived from cattle, sheep, swine, or goats are not considered meat food products."

The severe wind storm of last Friday blew down the frame of the bank building being erected at our neighboring village of Grabill.

Roy James, of Chicago, is at the bedside of his mother, who is seriously sick of hemorrhage of the bowels.

The funeral of the late George W. Hoffman took place from the M. E. church, Rev. Lilly, of Hicksville, officiating. There was a large attendance of friends and neighbors. The remains were interred at Scipio.

John Zimmerman, one of our business men, fell down the elevator shaft at his hardware store, a distance of eight feet. His nose was badly bruised, but fortunately no serious damage resulted beyond that. Contrary to custom the elevator had been left at the second floor and Mr. Zimmerman, wishing to go to the basement, confidently stepped off into the darkness with above results.

Sunday evening Brady Miller turned one of his horses into a lot in which there was an old well surrounded by a wire fence. The animal in its play ran into the fence, which checked it only to throw it head first into the well. When withdrawn the neck was found broken. The well was only about six feet deep and since the recent rains contained water. The loss is severe on Mr. Miller.

WOMAN IS TORTURED BY WOMEN

Face Blackened and Molasses and Feathers Put on Head.

Franklin, Pa., Oct. 31.—Four married women of good standing today tried whitecap methods on Mrs. Hattie Lowry, at East Sandy, four miles from Franklin. In broad daylight they entered the woman's home, tied her hands and then applied stove polish to her face and a coat of molasses and feathers to her head. They then led her by a rope through a neighboring railroad camp, where the unusual spectacle caused a complete suspension of work. The women finished their fun by tying Mrs. Lowry to a box outside the camp, where she remained until a man passing released her. On Mrs. Lowry's complaint Mrs. Verda Lowry, her sister-in-law; Mrs. Nellie Glaze and Mrs. Bertha Brinkman were arrested and fined $10 each. They pleaded justification and criticised the conduct of their victim.

THEFT SEEN IN BANK FAILURE.

Receiver for Butte, Mont., Concern Finds Evidence of Fraud.

Washington, Oct. 31.—"That money of depositors of the failed Aetna Banking and Trust company of this city and Butte, Mont., has been stolen is apparent," says the controller of the currency in a statement yesterday. "Officers in this city and Butte are co-operating," the statement says, "to apprehend and punish the guilty." The statement, which is based on a report made by the receiver, shows that the deposits at Butte exceeded $350,000, other liabilities bringing up the total to $400,000 or more. Only $9,000 in cash was found, and most of the assets appearing on the books, including the liability of the New York office for $197,000, are said to be worthless.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ACTS.

Will Attend Funeral Services for Dr. I. M. Rosenthal Tomorrow.

The Allen County Medical society, at its meeting Tuesday evening, adopted resolutions in memory of Dr. Isaac M. Rosenthal and decided to attend the funeral services Thursday morning in a body. The medical profession will be represented among the active pall bearers by Dr. A. E. Bulson, jr., and Dr. M. F. Porter, and the honorary pall bearers by Dr. G. W. McCaskey and Dr. W. P. Whery. Dr. Rosenthal was one of the early presidents of the society.

The papers of the evening were read by Dr. Bulson and Dr. Whery.

October is departing with all the brilliance of sunlight and crispness of air she can muster. She is like a naughty child who has been pouting and sulking for days, but now is trying to make you forget all about it by ususually good behavior. It is easy to forgive and forget weather troubles, however, and the brides of today are congratulating themselves on their selection of a date. Two weddings will claim attention this evening. At 7 o'clock the marriage of Miss Emma Marie Becker and Mr. Ernest C. Gocke will take place at the home of the bride. Friends and relatives will attend and the wedding promises to be one of the prettiest of the month. With little Georgiana Hudson and Elizabeth Bradshaw leading the way for Miss Mabel Hull, honor maid, and Percy Olds, groomsman, Miss Clara Hull will follow with her father to meet her affianced, Mr. Norman E. Olds, and be united in marriage at 6 o'clock by Rev. Henry B. Master. A large reception to friends will be held from 8 to 10 o'clock. Rev. Philip Wambsganns will officiate at the Gocke-Becker wedding and the attendants will be Miss Scheumann and Miss Trier as maids, and Verna Lang and Clara Wiebke as flower girls. Mr. Gocke has selected Peter Becker to attend him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Christian Rurode issued invitations today to the marriage of their daughter, Ophelia Valette, to Mr. Howell Cobb Rockhill, which will take place the afternoon of Wednesday, the twenty-first of November at 4 o'clock, at the residence, 228 West Berry street.

A surprise in the way of a dinner party today reminded George Loesch, the well known druggist, of his natal anniversary. Mrs. Loesch arranged the affair and six guests, including Mrs. A. C. Nill, of Lake George, were awaiting Mr. Loesch's arrival home at noon. The decorations were dark red chrysanthemums.

Hallowe'en Parties Tonight.

Miss Grace Gates, of East Williams street, will entertain a few girls this evening at customary sports of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams, of 2020 Swinney avenue, will entertain a few friends this evening at Hallowe'en games.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Emmons will entertain other children of the neighborhood this evening.

Helen and Agnes Mahurin will have a party of children at their home for a good time this evening.

The young ladies of the Alpha Omega will have a progressive supper and Hallowe'en games this evening beginning at the home of Miss Margery Gutermuth and taking other courses at the homes of Esther Auger, Muriel Baxter and Anna Heyman.

* * *

Mrs. H. J. Meyer entertained the Laetitia club this afternoon.

Mrs. A. Z. Foster, of Terre Haute, is visiting Mrs. S. M. Foster.

Miss Anna Souder will entertain the J. S. club and a few friends this evening.

Mrs. W. O. Adams, of Sidney, Ohio, is the guest of Mrs. James B. White, jr., for a week.

Miss Edna Reuss has gone to Chicago to visit her sister, Mrs. George Sunderland, for a short time.

Miss Marguerite Niezer, of Monroeville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Kroeff, has returned home.

Mrs. Eugene Pauley entertained the J. S. club this afternoon from 2 to 5, at her home on West Williams street.

Miss Laura Benoy has issued invitations to an "at home" which she will give Saturday, November 10, from 3 to 6.

Miss Mollie Greensfelder has returned from Logansport after a week's visit with her brother, Eli Greensfelder, and family.

Mrs. Wallace Atterbury, of Philadelphia, and Miss Mary Evans, of Toledo, are to be guests soon of Mrs. E. A. Hoffman for a week or more.

The Dixie club girls were entertained at the home of Miss Alma Rothenberger, 1225 Fairfield avenue, last evening. Prizes at progressive pedro were awarded to the Misses Nellie Bersch, Ella Kirn and Lillian Streicher.

Mrs. M. C. Merrill, of New York city, arrives today to be the guest of Mrs. Edward Rabus for a few days. Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Tigar, Mrs. Rabus' mother, will leave Saturday for Cleveland for a visit before returning to New York.

Stephen D. Bond, of Indianapolis, is in the city for a short visit with relatives. Mr. Bond accompanied his mother here, Mrs. L. A. Bond, who has been visiting in Indianapolis. Mrs. Bond will be at home this winter with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bond.

Miss Anna Rehm, of 1244 Scott avenue, entertained last evening the following young people in playing games and at supper: Misses Della Buttemeier, Eda Dickmeyer, Emma Erdman, Olga Boeschert, Tillie Franke, Bertha Homeyer, Leone Rehm, and Messrs. Dick Schuster, Fred Limbach, Fred Roebke, Paul Knothe, Fred Rietdorf, Harry Rehm.

The Colonial card club ladies spent a pleasant time as the guests yesterday of Mrs. Henry Eckart, of West Main street. Mrs. Eckart anticipated the feature of today's entertaining by using pumpkin shaped tally cards in the pedro game, tiny pumpkins filled with salted nuts for favors and tied bows of yellow maline on the stems of the sherbet glasses when refreshments were served. Prize winners were Mrs. George Trier, Mrs. W. H. Schultz and Mrs. J. E. Scroggy. New members taken into the club at this meeting were Mrs. Ziegler, Mrs. Scroggy, Mrs. John Fratis, Mrs. Frederick Freese and Mrs. C. M. Mills.

Last Night's Parties.

The members of the H. W. club spent last evening with Mrs. F. Y. Gross, 312 East Berry street and enjoyed Halloween sports just as if the members were not married. Pedro was of minor importance, although Mrs. N. Conover, Mrs. R. M. Germain, Mrs. J. N. Fulton and Mr. Conover, Manning Smith and Will Lerch played well enough to get the prizes. The decorations were in yellow and white and chrysanthemums and pumpkins were used with pretty effect.

A night-before Halloween party was what Miss Edith Jacobs gave last evening in the hall above her father's music store on Calhoun street. But it might as well have been October 31, for anyone would have declared after a peep in the hall that it was All Saints' night instead of the eve before. There were cornstalks, autumn leaves and bittersweet from out of doors and yellow and red crepe paper festoons and grinning, yellow lanterns to represent indoor decorations. There was a gypsy tent in one corner where Miss May Warner looked like a real, swarthy, cross-my-palm-with-silver fortune teller. In the room adjoining, where supper was served by Miss Edith's mother, with the assistance of Miss Nellie Gloeckle, there was as much to look at as there was to eat and that means much, for the supper was excellent. Each boy had a yellow chrysanthemum for a favor and each girl found a red one at her place. On the table were candles that stood in apple candlesticks. Pumpkin shells were heaped with fruit and parched corn and nuts were a part of the menu. Dancing was the amusement of the evening. The guests were Sylvia Karn, Evelyn Meyer, Erma Tapp, Evelyn Gutermuth, Gertrude Warner, Mamie Jacobs, Frances Telley, Charlotte Schick, Helen Travis, Edna Pape, Helen Miller, Bertha VanGorder, Clara and Julia Rippe, Helen Gloeckle, Edith Rolf, Bruce Winch, Roy Smaltz, Frank Smitley, Herbert Hanna, Samuel Streifling, Albert Gessler, Robert Travis, Harry Stahl, Arthur Gross, Herbert Zur Muehlen, Walter Curdes, Walter Melching, Wier Garwood, Arnold Tresselt, Eno Rolf and George Bottler.

Another ante-Halloween night party was the one given by Miss Irene Woebbeking, who delighted a company of her young friends by inviting them to her home, 1409 Broadway. There were many things that contributed to the good time the children had, such as games, prizes and pretty decorations. The children invited were Hazel Lichtenwalter, Margaret Essig, Edna Hamilton, Katherine Stewart, Vera Ray, Gladys and Esther Martin, Margaret and Mildred Kline, Nora Melching, Hilda Harris, Gladys Miller, Nellie Raidy, Gertrude and Florence Kohlmeyer, Lydia Bultemeyer, Robert Orrock, Edgar Harris, Leo and Carl Brunner, Herbert and Edward Bente, Myron and Rufus Young, Edward Martin, Daniel Cox, Edward Schreck, Raymond Kelley, Rex Smith, Felix Sitterie, Raymond Woebbeking.

Miss Dorothy Landenberger, of Brackenridge street, knew that yesterday was her birthday anniversary, but she didn't know that she was to have a party. So she was much astonished when a company of her friends called to spend the evening. One particularly interesting amusement was the telling of fortunes by Miss Katherine Scherzinger. Then a marshmallow bake took considerable time and as if that was not enough for one jolly event, refreshments were served too.

* * *

Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Westerman, of 825 Madison street, gave pleasure to a party of children last evening. The rooms were trimmed with smilax and Jack lanterns. Ray Carey won the prize in a bean contest. Fred Compton was the most successful and Gladys Becker was second in a guessing game and Earl Dust won the small prize in the bean game. Gladys Becker and Walter Kratzsch furnished music during the time. The guests were Rhea Winans, Jennie Stephens, Helen Westerman, Ray Carey, Oran Opatz, John Hammond, Earl Dustman, Fred Compton and Walter Kratzsch.

Still another ante-Halloween party was the one which the members of the Afternoon Musical club gave last evening at the home of Miss Esther Lahmeyer. Prizes in games were won by Christine Pape and Marguerite Gross. The members of the club are Ruth Gumpper, Beatrice Loutti, Myrtle Graeter, Grace Gruber, Irma Cornish, Helen Gerow, Christine Pape, Marguerite Gross, Clara Piepenbrink, Lorina Fortriede and Mabel Grubb.

* * *

Mrs. M. S. Willson entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home last evening. There were seventeen young ladies present. The house was in suitable decoration and colors to suggest today's holiday and the dining room was done in crimson.

* * *

Miss Nellie Lanz, of Oakland street, entertained the members of the Wild Rose club last evening at her home on Oakland street. Each young lady went dressed as a little child and Miss Minnie Bredemeyer took first prize, and Miss Frances Phillips won second honors. In a guessing contest prizes were won by Miss Bertha Phillips and Miss Lulu Bartzell. Everyone spent a pleasant evening. Other guests were Misses Marie Malich, Eva Kiefer, Olive and Minnie Tagtmeyer, Anna Bredemeyer and Florence Linton.

A Hallowe'en celebration was given at the Y. W. C. A. "gym" last night which was greatly enjoyed. About ninety young people participated. The room was decorated with chrysanthemums, pumpkins, apples and candles. There were eight "tricks" given. As a test of each one's ability of writing her name while sitting on a rolling jar was one of the least common. The company was divided into groups marked by different colored ribbons and a champion from each group choses for a potato race which was the last sport of the entertainment. Cider and doughnuts were served for refreshments.

Miss Hazel Fink was surprised at her home on Reed street last evening by a company of young friends. The house was tastefully and appropriately decorated with autumn foliage and chrysanthemums. The guests were Misses Grace Christensen, Bertha Fink, Loretta Beverforden, Ruth Brown, Mabel Odenbaugh, Helen McCreary, Helen Rohlman, Amber Casey, Helen Pennyroth, Lillian Kopp, Miriam Abrams, Hilda Larrimore, Messrs. George Koehler, J. McCreary, Bird and Carl Herrod, Claude Koehler, Wayne Shaffer, Courtland O'Day, Robert Nohr, Robert Hohman, Edwin Slagle, Louis Limecooley, Delmont Beaman.

Another pretty party of Hallowe'en was the one at which Miss Mayme Koorsen, of Gay street, presided. The guests were the Misses Josie Lynch, Ivy and Eva Schild, Marie Staub, Florence Bickell, Clara Inman, Rosa Kline, Ethel Knox, Tillie Kuhlbach, Mamie Koorsen, Nora Gunkel, Rose Nichter, Mayme Kuhlbach, Clementine Perry and Adolph Kampe. T. V. Michel, Clem Mettler, A. J. Luley, Archie Coleman, E. A. Crane, Chester Griffith, Herbert Tigar, George Scharp, E. W. Bell, William Meyer, W. A. Bone, Frank Bickell, Frank Weber.

How Skilful Women May Utilize Ribbons

Charming Dress Accessories That Can Be Constructed from Remnants.

Boleros or Bridge Coats Offer Field for Odds and Ends.

BY ELIZABETH LEE.

The possibilities of short lengths of ribbon and lace, bits of linen, lawn or silk are simply wonderful, if only they happen to fall into skilled hands, while even the veriest amateur can produce really charming results, supposing her taste is good, and all at little or no cost beyond industry.

The fascinating little bolero or bridge coats offer a splendid field for utilizing such remnants, the tiniest scraps being of equal service as those of larger dimensions. A sweet little bolero was made from a short length of white linen, simply buttonholed on all edges, and then motifs—just scraps—of lace and embroidery were appliqued all over coat and sleeves, no two being exactly the same shape, different kinds of lace and embroidery too, being employed, yet when all the linen was cut away from the appliques the effect was of a beautiful coat of lace and embroidery appliqued with linen rather than the true fact.

Lace Bolero Cheaply Constructed.

Then the long coats made from alternate strips of lace and ribbon that are so tempting but cost so much when bought ready to wear is within the powers of any person who knows how to use her needle, and even though the materials must be bought, now that these kind of wares are so much reduced the cost will be less than half of those seen in the shops. Flowered ribbon combined with lace is especially pretty while simple designs worked in sequins on the ribbon strips are decidely effective. White Cluny, black satin ribbon and silver spangles is a dainty combination, and so is straw color ribbon, cream batiste and embroidery and gold spangles.

An out of date waist of black lace ripped and pressed will provide ample material for a smart little coat. Lay on the paper pattern, cut, then apply strips of ribbon lengthwise, equal distances apart, on both body and sleeves, and stitch down to the lace, the ribbon to be black or colored as perferred, and if each row is outlined with a single row of black spangles the result will be really handsome. Only a few stitches are required to put the garment together, calling for little skill or time either, yet think of the price asked for anything so smart in the stores.

Home Made Linen Belts.

Embroidered linen belts are cheap enough, I know, still there cannot be the individuality about them as may be seen in a belt made at home from a single motif of handsome embroidery set on at the centre back to a strip of white linen closing in the front with a buckle of one's own choosing, while, perhaps, the buckle will be the only part of the belt that has had to be purchased. Now that the three little bows are worn at the throat, much money may be saved by making these at home, the smallest scraps of silk being available for the purpose, little bits of plaid being especially good, while a wider strip of plaid, hemmed on both sides becomes a smart looking four in hand tie.

Very fine sheer lawn comes in well for chemisettes, for, while these, too, can be bought cheaply, there is always a certain sameness about them unless those of better quality and, consequently, more expensive. Simply tucked in groups, or with the addition of a bit of lace, these homemade affairs will have a certain dainty air the shop article lacks entirely.

Coat Collars Made of Odds and Ends.

The same with coat collars, little bits of lawn and lace forming themselves into a dainty lingerie collar by hand sewing is a very different accessory to the machine made collars offered for sale. Other ways of utilizing small pieces of fine lawn will be in making a dainty bib for a baby, or the cover for a small neck pillow for an invalid or a baby carriage. Edged with a bit of Valenciennes insertion and finished with a frill of fine hemstitched lawn, this little pillow slip would prove a most acceptable gift.

Smart and Distinctive Hats Within the Scope of the Home Milliner

BY A. T. ASHMORE.

This season's hats, while all smart and distinctive, are still not so eccentric but that they can be made up and copied without more than the average amount of skill and knack at home millinery. Nor are the trimmings to be very inexpensive this winter—that is, for simple walking hats—for, naturally, plumes and aigrettes of the first quality are alone permissible with a handsome reception costume. The hats shown in the accompanying illustrations are all of them smart styles for what is commonly known as a walking or sailor hat. As will be at once noticed, feathers, or rather ostrich plumes, have been discarded for the morning hat, flowers, ribbon and stiff quills and wings being used instead.

Figure 1 shows an excellent style of walking hat—a soft felt, on the Tyrolean shape, trimmed only with the large fancy bowknot of striped ribbon. The felt should be of the same shade as the cloth in the suit, with a black and white ribbon, or one that is the same color as the felt. For a black suit the hat may be purple, with lilac ribbon, blue, green or red, but in black, with a black and white ribbon, the costume would be sure to be smart.

Round Sailor Shapes Still In Vogue.

The round sailor shape still remains in vogue, as is seen by the next illustration. This hat is of felt with a wide ruche effect of velvet draped about the crown, and just in the center is placed a small bird with long, widespread wings. The brim is tilted up slightly in back by a cachepeigne of either tulle or flowers. In different tones of mauve or of red this model would be most attractive.

In figure 3 is shown a sailor shape with a wide double brim, the upper part being raised up all around and caught in on the left side under a stiff bow knot of wide velvet ribbon. The wings are quite long and very stiff. There should be a cachepeigne in the back of either black or brown maline, whichever is the more attractive against the hair. This hat would necessarily be rather difficult to fashion because of its double brim, but if anything like the shape can be procured the trimming is quite simple.

A Strikingly Pretty Model.

An exceedingly pretty model is that shown in figure 4. This hat is of soft felt, wired underneath and then bent into soft angles so that the shape will be becoming. When the hat has been bent all around in just the desired shape, then the cachepeigne should be added: this should be of either velvet or tulle. The rosettes, which are added last, should be of handsome silk and velvet flowers and of whatever coloring is most attractive with the felt—which is chosen, of course, with reference to the gown for which the hat is intended.

Figure 5 shows a fascinating little model in rough tan colored felt trimmed on one side with a large rosette of brown velvet and on the other with a cluster of grapes and gray green leaves. The coloring in this hat is exquisite, if carefully adhered to, the different tones being perhaps somewhat modified to suit special costumes.

The last hat shown is of brown felt or velvet, trimmed with different tones of yellow and brown satin. On one side, in front of the bow, is a large chrysanthemum of deep cream color. The shape of this hat is especially good, but it may be modified, of course, if not becoming. Like the other models, this last illustration is taken from La Nouvelle Mode.

Proper Bed for the Baby

Never let young infants sleep on mattresses. They are unhealthy because they are unsanitary, and others who want their little ones to grow strong should not put them on any kind of a pad, for they all absorb impurities, whether of hair, wool or cotton, declares the head of a babies' hospital.

"Blankets that may be aired every day and washed once a week or once in two weeks, when folded three or four times to make a comfortable pad for the body, are sufficiently thick to supply the need of mattresses, and when placed over good wire springs, such as are usually put in an infants cot, make an easy resting place for even very young children," she says.

"Next to blankets there should be a soft rubber sheet, for hygienic reasons, and over it another of soft cotton. The coverings should consist of a top sheet similar to the one used under the sleeper and a blanket of sufficient thickness to keep the little one comfortable whether in cool weather or during the winter time, so it will be necessary to have the coverings of several grades of weight, for all emergencies. No spread need be used, for the coverings should be as light and yet as warm as are required to make the babies comfortable. Never make the mistake of weighing a little one down with too many blankets, etc., for too many coverlets are worse than too few, as the latter may cause the infant some discomfort, but former make it tired in addition as is always the case when too many clothes are put over a sleeper, especially a very young one.

"As to the care of a cot, it should be well aired in the sunshine every day, and each piece of bedding removed and shaken. The sheets should be put on fresh every day if convenient, if not then every other day, for that is long enough for an infant to use them.

"Pillows, if any are used, should not be more than two inches thick, and may be either of hair, which make them quite hard, or of down, that is decidedly soft. Personally I do not believe in putting any pad under a baby's head, for I think they do not need any such support, and I am confident that in many cases it has a tendency to give them round shoulders.

"Never use cradles, particularly those with rockers, that may be upset accidentally, and not only frighten but seriously injure the little one asleep. Don't get cots with high sides, for though side pieces are necessary to prevent a child from rolling off, they should not be wide enough to keep the air from circulating freely around the sleeper.

"As to the rooms babies occupy at night, the temperature should never be more than 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and there should always be a current of fresh air let in from the tops and bottoms of the windows. Care should be taken, however, to keep the little one from a draught. Don't let a young child sleep in the same room with grown persons, and never in the same bed, for the grown ups take the vitality from the young ones and leave them weak. Then, too, in my opinion, it is dangerous for an infant to be in bed with older persons, for during sleep the babies may be rolled on and injured, as is often the case, and I have known of several instances where real young children were smothered to death by getting under their mother's arms, or beneath her pillow.

"Before putting a baby to bed, always give it a lukewarm sponge bath, the water to be not more than ninety-six degrees Fahrenheit, the temperature of the body. Pat the flesh dry gently with a soft towel and then use plenty of talcum powder to keep the skin from chafing.

Candied Sweet Potatoes—Boil the potatoes, peel them, cut in lengthwise halves, dip each in melted butter, roll in sugar and brown in oven.

I add some suggestions and recipes for a halloween supper, from the Boston Cooking School Magazine for October:

A pretty and inexpensive decoration for the table is a jack-o-lantern, with yellow candles in summer squash for candlesticks.

Cheese sandwiches, celery and nut salad served in red apple cups, doughnuts, toasted marshmallow, popcorn balls and cider.

The marshmallows may be toasted on long forks over a bed of coals in a fireplace or on a double broiler set on a hot stove. When one side is browned turn and brown the other; serve hot.

Popcorn Balls—Pop a pint of shelled corn and salt it slightly. Boil one cup and a half each of molasses and granulated sugar until a little dropped into cold water may be worked into a ball that will click when dropped into a cup. Add a teaspoonful of cold water into which have been stirred one-fourth teaspoonful of soda and two tablespoonfuls of butter. Beat thoroughly, pour over the corn and mix; then with buttered hands roll it into balls.

"LADY FINGER" POTATOES.

One of the best ways of serving potatoes is in the shape of "lady fingers." Take medium-sized potatoes, pare, cut lengthwise three or four times, then slice these lengthwise, making them about the width and thickness of a little finger. Fry these brown and crisp in deep, hot fat same as for Saratoga chips. You will find these delicious if served hot soon as fried and salted.

Chinchilla Leads in Fur Modes

As Grays Are Fashionable All Signs Point to This Fur's Popularity—Long Boas and Flat Stoles Still in Vogue.

BY A. T. ASHMORE.

Nowadays it is the fashion to put on a fur boa as soon as the winter suit is donned, so that the fur set must be purchased long before autumn is past.

There is no very marked change in fur stoles and muffs this year and as yet no particularly new combination of fur has been noticeable. Large muffs are still en regle, but there is no restriction to the fan shaped, flat or round shape. As short sleeves are so generally worn muffs are all made long enough to be of some protection to the arm and naturally a large muff is more effective than a small one. The "poiquet" muff with its wrist laps, that may be folded back over the muff when desired, is about the most popular style for driving or with a reception gown with its short sleeves and long thin gloves.

Long Boas and Flat Stoles to Be Worn

Long boas, flat stoles and wide fur capes are all to be worn this year, but of course the shape of the collar piece must depend largely upon the kind of fur that is used. Black lynx lends itself to almost any style of boa, but a long flat stole seems to be the most popular. As a rule, lynx is lined with black silk or satin, but the extra warmth of double thickness is not necessary, and the part about the neck is sure to rub off on one side. Lynx, if properly taken care of, will give an immense amount of wear, but the same collar should not be worn every day, and it must always be most carefully laid away. While one handsome set of furs may be sufficient, it is worth while to have at least two sets for ordinary wear, as even the hardiest of fur will become shabby if worn day in and day out in all sorts of weather.

Mink Is Extremely Fashionable.

Mink is extremely fashionable this season and is made up in very handsome sets of long double boa and large flat muff. As it is still the fashion to wear the fur closely about the throat, with one end thrown back over the left shoulder, only long collars are possible. The little collarettes are still seen in ermine and astrakan, and sometimes chinchilla, but are no longer smart. As the tail is altogether the prettiest part of the mink on the collars, the majority of the newest muffs are trimmed with countless little brown tails.

Fox is rather out of favor at present for save in the white, which never receives a great amount of wear, it has been found to give little satisfaction, and lynx has just taken its place.

White fur is so attractive for young girls that it is, if anything, more fashionable than last year. With black velvet and with delicate shades of mauve or blue or with a white cloth costume white fur is charming. While lynx wears better than fox, but is more expensive, and then white fur is too conspicuous to be worn regularly.

Moleskin Smart With New Brown Shades.

One of the new shades this year is a real moleskin brown and with this shade most colors can be worn, so that moleskin is destined to be fashionable once again. Naturally moleskin is not so expensive as the rarer furs, but the handsomest muffs and boas are quite appropriate for the most elaborate costumes and carry out the color so well that the whole effect is excellent.

Ermine, chinchilla and Russian sable are always in fashion and there is little competition among them, for they are so light and warm that it is a favorite addition to any costume, while ermine gives a handsome tone to either a cloth or velvet gown. Ermine, however, is not invariably becoming, for its dead whiteness requires some little natural color. Chinchilla with gray of the same shade is exquisite, and as all grays are fashionable this winter all signs point to marked prosperity for chinchilla fur.

Methods of Whitening Clothes

It is never necessary for harmful washing solutions to be used in order to facilitate the laundering of clothes, for there are several things that can be added to the water which will quickly eradicate dirt, make the washing easier and will not injure the fabric.

Keresene is one of the best clothes whiteners, and is perfectly safe to use. It is especially good for clothes that have been hanging for a long time and become yellow.

For ordinary purposes use but a tablespoonful of kerosene to a gallon of water.

In the event of garments being very much soiled, an emulsion made from equal parts of kerosene, clear lime water and turpentine shaken creamy is invaluable.

Only one cupful of the mixture should be added to a boilerful of clothes. They should be kept over the fire for half an hour.

Make a very hot soap suds and add a small portion of the emulsion to the water. Allow the clothes to remain for about five minutes in the water and rinse with hot water thoroughly.

In the case of men's jumpers, overalls, working shirts or children's stockings or trousers this emulsion is invaluable.

A BOX OF OYSTERS.

To prepare a "box" of oysters Virginia style take a crusty loaf of bread—Vienna is good for the purpose—and cut off the top and scoop out the soft inside. Fill the space with oysters, seasoning them with salt, pepper and butter, and sprinkling over them some of the crumb of the loaf that you had removed. Put bits of butter on top, then replace the cover. Set the loaf in a dripping pan and pour the strained oyster liquor over it. Put into a hot oven and bake for fifteen minutes, taking care not to let the loaf scorch or brown too much. Serve hot and cut as for slicing bread. Lemon juice or a little mace is sometimes used for seasoning the oysters. —Ann Eaton.

PRUNE PUDDING.

A prune pudding is delicious. Wash and stone half a pound of prunes, cut them into pieces and put them in a basin. Add two ounces of chopped peel, four ounces of flour, four ounces of bread crumbs, two ounces of almonds chopped finely, one teaspoonful of baking powder, four ounces of cleaned currants, two ounces of butter, a pinch of salt, one well-beaten egg and enough milk to moisten. Pour into an oiled mold, covered with a paper, and steam for three hours. Serve with sweet sauce.

BAD BLOOD
THE SOURCE OF ALL DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength. When this life stream is flowing through the system in a state of purity and richness we are assured of perfect and uninterrupted health; because pure blood is nature's safe-guard against disease. When, however, the body is fed on weak, impure or polluted blood, the system is deprived of its strength, disease germs collect, and the trouble is manifested in various ways. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains. These impurities and poisons find their way into the blood in various ways. Often a sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the bowels, leaves the refuse and waste matters to sour and form uric and other acids, which are taken up by the blood and distributed throughout the circulation. Coming in contact with contagious diseases is another cause for the poisoning of the blood; we also breathe the germs and microbes of Malaria into our lungs, and when these get into the blood in sufficient quantity it becomes a carrier of disease instead of health. Some are so unfortunate as to inherit bad blood, perhaps the dregs of some old constitutional disease of ancestors is handed down to them and they are constantly annoyed and troubled with it. Bad blood is the source of all disease, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and purified the body is sure to suffer in some way. For blood troubles of any character S. S. S. is the best remedy ever discovered. It goes down into the circulation and removes any and all poisons, supplies the healthful properties it needs, and completely and permanently cures blood diseases of every kind. The action of S. S. S. is so thorough that hereditary taints are removed and weak, diseased blood made strong and healthy so that disease cannot remain. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and does not leave the slightest trace of the trouble for future outbreaks. The whole volume of blood is renewed and cleansed after a course of S. S. S. It is also nature's greatest tonic, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is absolutely harmless to any part of the system. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. RIDICULES ATTACKS ON MEATS.

British Health Authority Says Public Is Indifferent to Greater Perils.

London, Oct. 31.—Dr. Sir Frederick Treves, addressing the National Health society, ridiculed the recent outcry against canned meats, when, he said, virtually everybody were indifferent to far greater danger in food and milk laden with death dealing germs. The public does not seem to mind swallowing anything it could not see, he said. This milk, as now insanitarily supplied, swarmed with the bacilli of typhoid and other diseases, but, as they are invisible, the public does not care. Canned meats, which contained floor sweepings, pieces of rats and man, were harmless, because they were cooked, and probably healthy before they were cooked. People are straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel. The present treatment of meat before it is eaten is not more sanitary than it was in the days of the Neolithic cave dwellers.

UTES PREPARING TO DECAMP.

Gillette, Wyo., Oct. 31.—Three hundred and fifty Utes, whom the United States troops have been sent to intercept, are still camped on Powder river, but are making preparations to move northwest to join the northern Cheyennes on the Crow reservation.

The Indians already have sent messengers ahead to select camping grounds and to notify the settlers and ranchmen that they mean no harm.

They assert they left their reserve because they were dissatisfied with conditions there and would starve if compelled to remain. They are going to "big water, big wood, big game, and life happy," as Chief Appah expresses it.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. my-eod-w have gained their place at the pinnacle of piano popularity by their own merits. Their sweet, singing tone, grand volume, easy action and artistic appearance receive the highest praise and admiration of all musical critics.

HUNTINGTON PIANOS

The tone and durability of this piano is usually found only in pianos selling at $50 and $75 higher. A favorite with conservatories and music schools.

PIANOLA PIANOS

The only piano containing the genuine Pianola.

There is no musical instrument that has aroused so much curiosity and enthusiasm as the Pianola Piano.

It is almost an imperative duty for persons desiring to keep up with times to see and hear this new piano—the piano that anyone can play.

THE METROSTYLE PIANOLA

The world's standard piano player, today regarded as much of an essential in modern homes as the piano itself.

A SQUARE DEAL

for all in the purchase of pianos. Our business has been built up from a small beginning to its present proportions on the foundation of giving everybody everytime a "square deal." Our ONE PRICE basis of sale insures the lowest price to all.

QUALITY THE FIRST CONSIDERATION.

If you simply seek cheapness in a piano, you not only do not save but defeat the very purpose for which pianos are bought. A piano is purchased to delight the family circle with music and to educate the ear. A thin, wiry-toned instrument in a fancy piece of cabinet work does neither of these things.

If you are contemplating the purchase of an instrument—or even view it as among future possibilities—there is every reason for making us a visit of inspection NOW

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman: thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

CANDIDATES OF THE ALLEN COUNTY DEMOCRACY

SOMETHING ABOUT THE MEN WHO ARE TO BE VOTED FOR NEXT TUESDAY —TICKET STRONG AND GOOD.

HON. EDWARD O'ROURKE,
Democratic Candidate for Judge of the Allen Circuit Court.

HON. SAMUEL M. HENCH,
Democratic Candidate for Judge of the Allen Superior Court.

WILLIAM H. SCHEIMAN,
Democratic Candidate for Treasurer of Allen County.

JOSEPH N. MASON,
Democratic Candidate for Clerk of Allen County.

JUDGE EDWARD O'ROURKE.

Hon. Edward O'Rourke, democratic candidate for judge of the Allen circuit court, is so well known that information concerning him must be needless and held in such universal high esteem that praise is wholly superfluous. His long period of service on the bench of the Allen circuit court has been of the highest usefulness to the people of the county. He has administered justice with impartial hand and with such knowledge of the law, such insight into the merits of causes presented to him and such love for the triumph of law and justice as together mark him as one of the most painstaking, upright and learned jurists upon the bench in the state. In all his long public career Judge O'Rourke has never been attainted with the shadow of a suspicion that in the least measure could impeach his integrity. His lofty sense of right, his exalted personal honor and his devotion to the righteousness of principle that must animate every public servant who attains to such esteem as he enjoys and who so long commands an unquestioning public confidence in his uprightness of character are the guarantees that no mistake will be made in continuing him upon the bench he has honored. The people admire Judge O'Rourke, they hold him in highest esteem and they trust him without reserve. That a majority of the voters will next Tuesday reaffirm their past expressions of confidence in his eminent fitness for the circuit bench hardly seems to admit of any doubt.

JUDGE SAMUEL M. HENCH.

Hon. Samuel M. Hench, democratic candidate for judge of the Allen superior court, in various capacities has rendered the people of the county vast service. He is recognized today as having made one of the best records as prosecuting attorney ever made by any such officer in Indiana. He served with signal ability on the criminal and superior benches and in the Indiana house of representatives proved himself a diligent, honest and fearless legislator. Judge Hench began his public service when a mere boy as a soldier in the armies of the union during the great war of the rebellion. He was a brave and faithful soldier and despite his youth attracted the attention of his superiors for his courageous and faithful performance of every duty. In the fierce battle of Fredericksburg Judge Hench with his regiment took part and was severely wounded in that stupendous engagement. He has been a citizen of Allen county almost all of the time since the close of the war and is known for his ability and learning as a lawyer, for his devotion to his clients and for his high character as a man and a citizen and for his unimpeachable integrity as a public servant. It is recognized among lawyers that he is as splendidly equipped for the duties of the superior bench as any man at the Allen county bar. Judge Hench has been an alert and faithful friend of labor and in many ways has proved the loyalty of his devotion to labor's cause and the value of his friendship. It was while in the legislature that Judge Hench secured the passage of the employes liability bill, a law for which labor, especially railway men and employes of great corporations had been struggling in vain for twenty years. No service of more signal value has ever been rendered the cause of laboring men in Indiana than this. Judge Hench is widely known and universally trusted and esteemed and his election to the superior bench would prove immensely gratifying to all, irrespective of political considerations.

WILLIAM H. SCHEIMAN.

In presenting William H. Scheiman as its candidate for treasurer the democracy of Allen county has given the highest possible guarantee of honesty, efficiency and expert ability in one of the most important offices of the county. Mr. Scheiman was born in Fort Wayne and has always resided in the city. He is well educated and is known for possession of splendid business capacity. As an accountant he ranks with the highest in the city. His character is absolutely above reproach and no man in the community enjoys the thorough esteem of a wider circle of friends. Early in his candidacy for the democratic nomination Mr. Scheiman, mindful of certain abuses in the administration of the treasurer's office and resolving that if given opportunity he would make effectual correction of them, publicly gave pledge that he would turn into the public coffers every dollar of interest that should accrue from the deposit of public funds of which as treasurer he would be custodian. If elected, Mr. Scheiman will faithfully redeem this promise in letter and in spirit and interest upon the people's money will go to the people. Mr. Scheiman deserves the hearty support of every democrat. His loyalty to democracy was tested in a time and under circumstances that proved him a faithful and courageous adherent of his party and strong and sincere upholder of his party's principles. No man in the Allen county democracy deserves better of his fellow democrats than William H. Scheiman and that the men of the party will not fail to express their appreciation of his splendid loyalty is a thing not open to question.

JOSEPH N. MASON.

Joseph N. Mason is making a strong canvass among the voters for the office of clerk of the Allen county courts and from the time he started out he has steadily gained ground and the wisdom of the democratic voters in selecting him as their candidate has been thoroughly demonstrated.

He is fitted for the office in innumerable ways. In the first place he comes of a family of pioneers known for sixty years in Allen county as people of high moral character and no citizen ever held the respect of a community in a greater degree than his father, the late Peter Mason. In the second place he has had experience in county affairs in the position of bailiff of the circuit court, an office that he filled with such faithful care that his record warrants the assertion that he will make a capable county clerk.

Next he secured a business college education and spent several years in mercantile life gaining a knowledge that will be of the greatest benefit both to himself and the public generally in conducting the very important office he seeks. He was raised on a farm near Arcola, attended the public schools and finished his education in the academy for boys in the northern part of the county.

Upright in all his dealings, faithful in the discharge of his duties, competent for the duties that will be required of him he commends himself to the voters as a worthy candidate for clerk.

JOSEPH F. GETZ.

Joseph F. Getz stands before the voters of the county as the democratic nominee for the office of sheriff, which is one of the most important to be decided at the election next Tuesday. The Sentinel has no hesitancy in commending Mr. Getz to the voters as he has preserved in all his dealings an honesty that has never been questioned.

He could take hold of the office with a degree of intelligence that would insure a capable administration of his duties and there is every reason to believe that the members of the party should give him their earnest support at the polls. He has been active in public affairs all of his life and is a close observer and fitted in every way for service as sheriff.

Mr. Getz is a native of the county and has spent most of his life around Fort Wayne where he has made a big acquaintance. For a number of years he conducted a cigar store at the transfer corner in this city and his success in business indicates his ability.

He is a man of family and in his domestic relations has always commanded the warmest friendship of the people in the vicinity of his dwelling on account of the careful manner in which he has cared for those near and dear to him.

Wisdom in the selection of a sheriff could not be better exercised than by giving a majority of the votes to Mr. Getz, who has carried himself through a hard campaign in a way that has engendered for him the highest respect of the people whom he is asking to make him their choice.

WILLIAM F. RANKE.

Capt. William F. Ranke, of this city, is the democratic nominee for state senator and he richly deserves the office as he is fully capable of taking good care of the interests of his constitutents in the state legislative body.

He was born and has lived all his life in Fort Wayne and is now a member of the drug firm of Ranke & Nusbaum. He began his business career as a drug clerk in the store of Meyer Brothers and became a competent pharmacist after which he engaged in business on his own account. His title of captain came to him as the head of Battery B, of this city and he entered the service for the Spanish-American war and put in several years as a member of the state militia.

He is possessed of strict honesty which has been fully proven in his business experience of a number of years, he is capable as shown by success in the management of his commercial affairs and his entire record in private life entitles him to the highest respect of the entire community.

There is every reason that the voters should support Mr. Ranke in his bid for public office. He is young and aggressive, with a clear understanding of public matters and has in him the material for the making of a good state senator.

F. WILLIAM FRANKE.

F. William Franke, the democratic candidate for county commissioner from the first district, has been a resident of Madison township since 1845 and has been engaged in farming the greater part of his life. He was married in the county and served as township trustee from April, 1888, until August, 1895.

During that time he made a record as a public servant that marks him as earnest and painstaking in the duties required of a man who asks the votes of his fellow citizens for an important office like the one to which he aspires. His accounts were always kept in the most careful manner and two school houses that were erected during his term of office are monuments to his good business judgment. In addition ten iron bridges were erected with stone abutments, and all of them were constructed at as small a cost to the taxpayers as durable work would admit of.

In recommending Mr. Franke to the voters of the county it can be said of him that in the past he has preserved an enviable record for strict honesty in all his private dealings and there is every reason to believe that in event of his election the financial affairs of the county will be placed in careful hands. This has been further proven by a term as county councilman from 1900 to 1902, when he was regarded as an intelligent and capable member of the body.

JOSEPH TONKEL.

Joseph Tonkel, democratic candidate for county commissioner to represent the second district, is not only worthy in every way of the support of the members of his party and voters generally, but, if elected, will carry into the office an experience of a year and a half in which he has faithfully and honestly served the unexpired term of the late Martin Moudy.

Mr. Tonkel is a native of Allen county, having been born in Cedar Creek township, where he has resided all his life, devoting his attention to farming. He was assessor at one time of St. Joe township, which is the only public office he held prior to the time he became a member of the present board of commissioners.

The strict business integrity that has characterized his private dealing has been carried into public affairs and Mr. Tonkel has been especially careful in the matter of expending public funds and in one instance opposed the purchasing of voting machines because in his opinion the county could not afford to contract more indebtedness than it was carrying at the time. He also held that the people ought to have a voice in the expenditure of as large a sum as would have been necessary at that time. He is not opposed to voting machines, but wants the people instructed and consulted in the matter, and believes it better business policy to wait until the county is able to purchase all at one time that will be required to take the county vote.

Many improvements, including those at the county infirmary, have been taken up since Mr. Tonkel has been a member of the board and his business sagacity has been such as to recommend him highly to the voters of the county as a safeman to have in charge of the expenditure of the money of the taxpayers.

JOHN B. WYSS.

John B. Wyss, of Marion township, is asking the votes of the citizens as a democratic candidate to represent the third district of Allen county on the board of commissioners. Among the many claims for office that Mr. Wyss offers is the fact that although a young man in the matter of years, he is the head of a family of eleven children.

His experience in the administration of public affairs is embraced in four years as township trustee, during which he improved his public schools by increasing the wages of the teachers about 20 per cent., lengthened the school terms and improved all of the buildings without adding a cent to the tax levy.

This recommends him as a man of good business judgment and insures that he served his fellow citizens in a most conscientious way while he was in charge of their affairs and gives rise to the assurance that in the larger dealings that will come in event of his election he can be relied upon to look first to the interests of the taxpayers.

Fourteen thousand yards of gravel were hauled and placed on public highways in his township while he was trustee and at the conclusion of his term he had so conducted the business affairs of his trust that his work bespoke for him the utmost confidence of the people who had chosen him as their representative.

A. J. KESSLER.

Dr. A. J. Kessler has been coroner of Allen county and he is thoroughly conversant with all that will be asked of him in case he is the choice of the people at the polls next Tuesday. He can point with great pride to the enviable record he made as a servant of the public and there was not, during his encumbency or since, a single charge that he did not act with fidelity and intelligence while he was in office.

He is also possessed of ample medical knowledge and skill to go before the public as a most competent and safe man to have in an office wherein good judgment and experience are as necessary as they are when it comes to filling the position of coroner.

WILLIAM EGGEMANN.

William Eggemann is the present assessor of Allen county and he can point with unqualified pride to the record he has made in his office. He has not recognized fealty to anybody in the matter of placing property on the tax duplicate and the taxpayers of the county are thousands of dollars better off by having a man of his caliber in the important office he has held.

His administration is his best argument in the matter of asking the support of the voters of the county and their wisdom was fully demonstrated at the primary election that nominated him. He has placed upon the records of the county an immense amount of property that was sequestered and in doing the work he has exercised such good judgment that he has made no enemies.

He simply sought first to serve the people which elected him and has made a showing that emphasises in a most marked manner his unquestionable ability. He does not need an introduction to the public. A life spent in the county has already done what a newspaper biography would do and he can stand entirely upon his own merits in asking for office.

Mr. Eggemann has been prominent in the education of himself and others in the matter of property valuations and has attended and gained knowledge at all of the state, district and county meetings designed for the advancement of the equitable taxation of property. He is fully entitled to the support, not only of the democratic party, but of the voters at large.

ALBERT E. PARKER.

Albert E. Parker, who asks the voters of the county to elect him as one of the representatives on the democratic ticket, made a most creditable race for the same office two years ago and was elected to the office, but lost out before a republican legislature in a contest at Indianapolis after the local election board had declared him entitled to the office.

Mr. Parker represents the younger and aggressive element of the democratic party and asks the suffrages of the voters because he is confident that he will represent them in the legislative halls of the state with the same fidelity to duty that he has displayed in his occupation, which has up to this time been that of a teacher in the public schools of the county.

He was born in St. Joe township, which has always been his home, and has always borne himself in a manner to commend himself to the voters of the county, who are seeking to send to Indianapolis a representative who will consider it his first duty to protect the taxpayers in all of the measures he is called upon to consider. He is a graduate of the Fort Wayne high school and of the Indiana university and is thoroughly equipped to make a good legislator.

WILLIAM FRUECHTENICHT.

William Fruechtenicht is a young attorney and a resident all his life of the city of Fort Wayne. He is asking the votes of the people of Allen county as a democratic nominee for representative and from the fact that his record has been kept clean and he is capable and honest he is entitled to support.

He comes of democratic stock and although he is a young man he has done the party sufficient service to warrant him in claiming its support in his battle for office.

The county councilmanic ticket of the democratic party is composed of Jacob Gable, of Wayne township; John Hamilton, of Lafayette; Valentine L. Shaffer, of Monroe; Martin V. Metcalf, of Perry, for the four districts and Hiram Roller, Louis Centlivre and William Smith for councilmen at large.

Without going into the history of each of the nominees it is safe to say that each and every one of them is entitled to the unstinted support of the party. Many of the men have had large experiences in the administration of the county government and have qualified themselves fully to watch the financial interests of the taxpayers.

ALBERT E. THOMAS.

Albert E. Thomas has been named by the democrats of Allen county as their candidate for prosecuting attorney and he is entitled to support at the polls on election day.

He is an active practitioner at the bar of Allen county where he has demonstrated a thorough and practical knowledge of the law and has gained a long experience in criminal matters as deputy under N. D. Doughman when he was prosecutor. Attention to the interests of the clients he has served in the course of his practice mark him as a most faithful and intelligent member of the bar.

The duties of the office of prosecutor demand in a great degree thorough honesty of purpose and there is every reason for the voters to believe that Mr. Thomas will exercise this in the office.

As a nominee on the democratic ticket he is up to the high standard of citizenship that should dominate party affiliation and added to this is experience and competency. He has been active at all times in the campaigns of the party and has freely given his time and talents to the aid of the candidates who have sought election.

In all that constitutes a claim upon the public for honest consideration of his aspirations for office there is nothing lacking in the democratic nominee and he is placed before the voters as a fit man for office.

GEORGE W. LINDEMUTH.

The voters of Allen county could not make a better selection for the office of auditor than George W. Lindemuth, the candidate on the democratic ticket. In the first place he has served in the office in a most efficient manner for four years and is thoroughly acquainted with all of the details necessary to the proper conduct of the office to which he asks the citizens to elect him.

While he was a deputy under the present incumbent he devoted all of his time to mastering the intricacies of the public records and this commends him in a special manner to the voters because there is no greater qualification for office than actual experience.

George Lindemuth is an Allen county boy having been born and raised in Scipio township of a family that has always been thoroughly democratic and factors in the victories of the party. He, however, is so well versed in the affairs of the office of county auditor that he can rely entirely upon his own ability to take care of the duties that will be his in event of his election.

As great a compliment as any man could ask was paid to his honesty and integrity when he became a deputy to Dr. J. L. Smith who required absolutely no bond of him when he took him into his office and entrusted him with the most important duties that the service embraces.

He recommends himself to the voters in all of the requirements and their endorsement will not be misplaced if he is made auditor of the county upon the decision of the majority of the people who will cast their ballots next Tuesday.

DAVID SPINDLER.

David Spindler demonstrated in the last campaign that he is popular with the voters of the county as he won his office under the most adverse circumstances and came out from under a big landslide with enough votes to make him surveyor of the county.

He is again the democratic nominee for an office he has filled during his term with careful attention to the demands of the public and has demonstrated that he is well fitted for the place. Experience is one of the claims he can put forth in soliciting the votes of the people who want to put into office men who can administer public affairs in a competent way.

Voters who have come in contact with him since he was elected surveyor have found him accommodating, polite and capable and it is safe to say he increased the number of his friends by taking care of all that his office demanded of him.

Mr. Spindler is a native of Milan township and began life as a school teacher and prior to the time he was named as surveyor he was deputy under his predecessor. He is a graduate of Valparaiso college, where he completed a course in civil engineering, a fact that commends him, and added to his schooling he received several years of actual experience since he entered public life. He is a son of William Spindler and comes of a family that has always commanded the highest regard of the public.

ODDS and ENDS of INTEREST from FAR and NEAR

A HALF MADE HORSE.

HERE is another freak picture hot from the camera. Two horses were to be photographed, but owing to one of those unavoidable eccentricities of the picture taking machine the process came to a stop, leaving one horse unfinished.

Observe the animal's noble head, apparently floating in midair, while the other horse is watching the photographer and wondering how long it took the man to master the science of picture making. The little boy in knickerbockers is telling the horse in a gentle whisper, calculated to inspire confidence, to maintain his pose, look pleasant and feel himself eating the second peck of oats.

The head of the other horse is evidently surprised that there is so much delay in finishing up the body, and the man who is holding the horse by the head is saying things not found in the Bible or dictionary because the rest of the horse is so long delayed. It may be for years and it may be forever, as the poet says in the song, before the rest of the horse arrives.

It is just possible that a camera will be invented within a few months that will finish the picture and show the horse fully completed, in his right mind and standing on four legs, but at present the picture lacks three-quarters of a horse.

Missionaries and Trade.

As a result of the persistent efforts on the part of Christian missionaries, commercial relations are being established on a firm basis in the interior of Syria. Alexandretta is the natural port and distributing centre for the great plains of Aleppo, which contain a population of several millions. The total imports into Alexandretta for the calendar year 1904 amounted to $10,559,460. Of this amount only $29,826 was from the United States. The demand for cotton and woollen goods, manufactures of iron and agricultural implements, great quantities of which are now being imported from England, Germany, France and other European countries, should furnish American dealers with a ready market providing proper transportation facilities existed. The exports for 1904 were valued at $7,599,035, an increase of $1,236,775 over 1903. The exports to the United States were valued at $1,039,355, an increase of $633,610, compared with 1903.

As there are no railroads from Alexandretta, all goods must be conveyed to the interior over the caravan route leading to Aleppo on camels or horses. At Mersina a railroad extends inland to Tarsus and Adana, seventy miles distant. The charge for carrying by camels varies greatly, depending on the quantity of goods and the supply of camels.

It is suggested by merchants that a direct steamship line between America and the Levant would greatly increase the trade between the two countries. As it is, all goods must be transshipped at Hamburg, Naples or Liverpool, causing costly and long delays that result seriously to the Syrian merchant when goods are shipped from America.

The ever increasing dimensions of war vessels has led the German government to conclude to widen the Kiel Canal from sixty to 130 feet, and the width at the surface from 130 to 350 feet. The proposed improvements, it is estimated, will cost nearly $50,000,000.

Nelson's Fine China.

THE artistic tastes of to-day incline strongly, if not to the antique in china, then to the fine, satisfying designs of a century ago. The average person in the midst of the distracting activities of commercial or professional life has but a vague idea—or lacks the idea entirely—of how important a part chins may play in a well ordered, well balanced life which is tempered with something of the aesthetic. It was Oscar Wilde who said that every man should be able to live up to his blue china; that, in fact, it was almost a religious duty to do so.

Fine specimens of English china hold a high place in the estimation of collectors.

Here is given a reproduction of one of the most distinguished specimens in Europe. This one plate is easily worth many times its weight in gold, for its value is not merely intrinsic nor gauged by the standards that determine the figure at which such and such a rare piece is held.

This is historic china and the mere mention of the associations attached to it brings a glow of pride to every subject of King Edward. It was one of a set made for Lord Nelson in 1802, and the design is in gold and color, combining tradition and patriotism with a beauty of artistry which is wholly unconventional. The great English sea fighter, it may be said, not only lived up to his blue china, but a sky flight above it.

Opening for Dentists.

INVESTIGATION as to the number of practising dentists in the city of Magdeburg, as well as in the entire province of Saxony, shows a decidedly small number in proportion to the population, especially as in recent years the Germans are coming to realize more and more the importance of caring for the teeth. Magdeburg, with nearly 250,000 inhabitants, at the present time shows only twenty-one practising dentists, one of whom—a lady—has studied dental surgery in America and enjoys a large and profitable practice.

As a further proof of this growing need, a comparison of the number of dentists to that of physicians is worthy of consideration. In the province of Saxony, with a population of nearly three million people, there are only ninety practising dentists, forty-one of whom are in the government district of Magdeburg, twenty-nine in the district of Merseburg and twenty in the district of Erfurt. In the last district named there are ten physicians to each practising dentist; in the district of Magdeburg fourteen and in the district of Merseburg twenty. From these figures, which have been obtained from reliable sources, it is quite clear that there is an excellent opportunity for young dentists, and especially so for young American dentists conversant with the German language, to locate and build up a practice in some of the many comparatively large and flourishing cities of this province. It is only fair to assume that honest efforts would be crowned with success, as in the larger cities, like Berlin, Leipzig, Dresden, &c., where American dentists have already located, they are at the present time, in the majority of cases, enjoying enviable success.

Unfortunately, a few years ago a number of so called "American dentists" with spurious titles brought American dental titles in general in bad repute. However, these matters have been adjusted, and at the present time, by taking the proper steps, competent dentists, graduates of reputable colleges, can establish themselves here and practice unmolested.

RAPID TRANSIT SPOOK PHOTOGRAPH.

STILL another freak picture. This time they've got a piece of the uptown elevated road—the subway, apparently where it travels in open air—running into this store, opposite the Herald office.

It is said that photography, like General George Washington, never tells a lie. Go to this store and watch for the trains running into the third story of the great mercantile emporium. All the real trains stop at the station outside, but with this photograph in hand you can see the spook expresses actually thundering into the great building.

Silken Disappointment.

SECRETARY FRANKLIN ALLEN, of the Silk Association of America, in his annual report makes it clear that the silk trade last year was not up to the standard of previous years. He calls 1905 "a disappointing year." He says:—

"In point of yardage the silk business has been greater, probably, than in any preceding year. The importation of raw silk, while showing a decrease from the previous year, has been liberal. Machinery equipment has been greatly added to and has been in fairly active operation, while the product has gained largely in distribution and consumption. Yet the trade is not distinctly prosperous.

"The fierce competition among ourselves, which has greatly developed under the Dingly tariff act of 1897, has resulted in such extreme low prices for standard taffetas that consumers and operatives in the silk mills have alone been benefited. Whatever the causes, the facts remain the same, that in spite of a consumption of more than $150,000,000 worth of silk goods, both foreign and domestic, at the present time in the United States, the silk interest fails to reflect and enjoy its share of the bounteous prosperity which showers itself upon our fortunate country. From an importation of 13,000,000 pounds in 1902 the importation of raw silk passed to 16,000,000 in 1904 and to 17,500,000 in 19.5, and for the present season it has receded to 15,500,000 pounds. These fluctuations very nearly indicate the business figures of each year in the manufactured product.

"In the same period, 1901-1905, the creative power of our manufacturers has been increased by the addition of over eighteen thousand power looms for broad weaves and twenty-two hundred ribbon power looms. The record of new machinery equipment to the mills in the United States in the year 1905 is surprising. Many States participate in the increase, which totals 4,439 new power looms for broad fabrics, 696 for ribbons, 59,672 throwing spindles, 3,676 spinning and twisting spindles for machine twist and sewings, 26,113 hard and soft silk winders and 33,216 accessory spindles for doubling, reeling and quilling."

Mexican Immigration.

MEXICO is agitated over the subject of immigration. The newspapers deal with the matter quite generally and many public men have discussed it. It is argued that immigrants from cities are not desirable, as what Mexico needs are men to cultivate the land. It is said the cities of Mexico, like those of other countries, have a superabundance of the element which would be contributed by immigrants from foreign cities. A year ago a big Japanese company brought a thousand men from Japanese cities to Boleo for mining purposes. As the Japanese had no experience in mining, they were of no use, and had to be shipped home at the expense of the steamship company, which experiment, the Mexican Investor says, cost the company about $100,000. Another Japanese immigration company shipped a large number of Japanese laborers from towns to the Istamus of Tehuantepec to work for the planters there, but they proved a failure and had to be shipped home. For that reason Mexicans say they do not want men from cities. The great trouble with Mexican land is the lack of moisture, which will have to be provided by means of artesian wells, &c., for irrigation purposes.

The shell and boilers of the new Cunarder being built at Wallsend, England, are said by Consul Metcalf to be constructed of the largest steel plates in the world. They are silicon steel, weighing ten tons each. The boilers alone will weigh a thousand tons. Massive ingots and slabs weighing twelve and fourteen tons are continually passing through the rolling mills there for this work.

HOW TO HANDLE BEES.

HERE is a picture of a bee farmer. He lives in that wonderful throbbing metropolitan suburb of Long Island City, Astoria, where they have Colonial houses and far smelling gas. Millions of people have wondered how the bee farmer teaches the fiercest of all animals to be fondled without sticking their stingers through the flesh. It is all a matter of careful investigation of the peculiarities of bees.

A bee, like some people, does not annoy a man unless he discovers the man can be annoyed. A bee farmer's education begins in youth, and by the time he graduates he is indifferent to bees. At first, when the bees sting him he bites his lip and looks around for a chance to escape, but later, when 40,000 bees sting him, he smiles, says "I don't mind it a bit," and then the bees stop stinging.

The best way to handle bees is to pay no attention to them and concentrate all your blandishments on the queen bee. This is what the young bee farmer has done. He has told the queen how handsome she is and what a great career is before her; how half a dozen theatrical bee managers are anxious to put her on the stage at $300 a week, carriages and hotels free. As long as the queen of the bees is happy and likes the man talking with her the million other bees will not sting him, though their little darning needles may be ready for business with half a thimbleful of poison waiting to be shot into the bee farmer's veins.

The queen bee in the picture is looking up into the man's face and wondering why he is scowling. She does not know that he is being photographed, and will presently resume his smile and conversation with her. In half an hour she will find a nice new hive lined with silk velvet and beautifully upholstered, with vines growing over the door and everything ready for a long and happy reign. Thus the young bee farmer will plant his new colony and a year hence will be removing honey with a derrick for the New York market. Moral:—Honey begets honey. Smile on the queen, and her bees will not sting you. This applies to fashionable society as well as to bees.

Incubators for Germany.

During the last eight years the interest in raising pure breeds of poultry in Germany has increased, and poultry shows are frequent. At an exhibit in Achen during February all kinds of poultry and game birds were shown, but not an incubator or brooder was shown, and even catalogues were absent. If American agents with exhibits of incubators, brooders, &c., were to visit these poultry shows they should be able to make many foreign sales. An international poultry show will be held the third week of April in Loerrach, Baden; in May there will be an exhibit in Baden-Baden, and plans are being made for a large exhibit in Karlsruhe, Baden, next September.

German statistics issued a few months ago show that in 1902 the total value of fowl and egg imports into Germany was $38,556,000. There is a great field here for the introduction of American poultry-breeding supplies.

Apples in England.

England is importing on an average a little over 150,000 bushels of apples per week. They come from the United States and Canada. Those from Oregon bring the highest prices. The best qualities bring $3.65 a box; ordinary samples, $2.90. These are good prices, considering that a box contains only a bushel. The California apples are selling at $2.45 a box for best and $1.95 for ordinary grade. The United States fruit is put up in barrels of about 140 pounds. The best range in value is from $5.30 to $6.78 a barrel; ordinary, from $4.35 to $4.86. Nova Scotian apples sell from $6.08 to $6.78 a barrel. Ordinary Canadian apples, from various sources, bring from $4.60 to $5.82 a barrel. In these lines the Wagners are the cheapest and the russets the dearest. Some of the latter sell for $6.78 a barrel.

Surgery Versus Medicine.

IT is only within living memory that surgery succeeded in freeing itself from the traditional trammels which made it the handmaiden of medicine. At a date so comparatively recent as 1852 surgeons were excluded from St. Paul's Cathedral on the occasion of the funeral of the Duke of Wellington, while physicians were admitted. Less than thirty years ago a new field, in which modern surgery has won one of its most noteworthy triumphs, was nearly closed by an edict of the London College of Physicians, which forbade the knife except within an arbitrarily restricted sphere

Lectures on Journalism.

CONSUL T. J. ALBERT makes a report from Brunswick, saying as the proposition to establish a university for journalism in the city of New York was seriously discussed, it may be of interest to know the progress being made in Germany in giving instruction in this department of human activity.

The list of lecture courses at the German universities and colleges during the present summer session shows that the treatment of journalism becomes a more important branch of instruction at these institutions. During the present summer session Professor Bucher, the well known political economist, delivers a course of lectures upon the "History, Organization and Technics of Journalism," both at the University of Leipzig and at the Commercial College of the same city. At the University of Bern Dr. Bühler gives a course upon the "Editing and News Service of a Newspapor, with Practical Exercises." The course of Dr. Schmidt at the University of Berlin upon "Public Opinion and Journalism in Germany" is likewise new.

At Zurich, where now the title of "doctor" can be acquired in the department of journalism as well as that in any other political science, Doctor Wettstein lectures on "History and System of Press Law," and also upon the "History of the Daily Press to the French Revolution."

Professor Adolph Koch, the first academic representative of this department of instruction in Germany, repeats at Heidelberg his course upon the "History, Condition and Importance of Public Opinion, of the Press and of Journalism in Germany;" also his "Course of Practise Introductory to Journalism." At the Technical High School at Danzig the well known political ecomomist, Professor Theiss, reads a course upon "Journalism." At the Commercial College at Cologne the editor, Dr. Brunhuber, delivers a course upon "Culture and the Press."

When it is added that last winter Professor von Wenckstern delivered a course at the University of Greifswald upon "Journalism," and during the same season lectured at Berlin and Leipzig on the "Rights of the Press," it may be seen how far the German and Swiss institutions of learning recognize more and more journalism an important factor in human culture and how more and more the educated are attracted to this valuable branch of knowledge.

The British Consul at Amiens, France, in reporting on the "good year" of the local tailoring business adds that wages are low, thousands of trousers being made by the tailoresses in their homes at four cents a pair. They must supply their own sewing machines, needles and thread and be responsible for all damages.

Splendid Shot.

SOCIETY'S sportsmen, to whom geographical location offers no barriers, are going further afield in their hunt for big game. New York millionnaires have journeyed to India to have a shot at a man eating tiger; expeditions have penetrated well nigh inaccessible portions of the great Northwestern wilderness for the sole purpose of bagging game, and wealthy Nimrods even have penetrated the frozen desolation of the Arctic circle.

It is manifest that a man who can bring down a running object at three hundred yards, and who has sufficient money, may seek excitement with his rifle in any part of the world. The Cape to Cairo Railway, in Africa, has already begun to popularize the country of a "paradise of sport." Where formerly an expedition to hunt the elephant, rhinoceros, hippopotamus or lion was attended with considerable hardship and danger, apart from other difficulties, one may now reach the heart of the big game country in comparative comfort.

A London paper recently remarked the great number of persons prominent in society who had gone into the African jungle to seek excitement. They have gone not only with gun, but with camera as well, and here the photographic apparatus peacefully, but none the less successfully, supplements the rifle in bringing down the quarry. This rhinoceros was charging the hunter when it was killed. The shot was an excellent one, of which the man may boast with perfect propriety, for it was immediately fatal.

The big beast, carried forward by its momentum, crashed down on the ground with an impact that shook the trees. As it lay there, now a fair mark for the amateur photographer, with the conditions of light and posture highly favorable, the camera took a shot, which, you must admit, was just as successful as that of the rifle.

HOW YOUR TRUNKS ARE SMASHED.

WHILE the country is in politics, with orators and writers discussing the rights of voters, little is said of the citizen's right to have his baggage decently handled. Probably no other outrage, daily committed throughout the land, can compare with the destruction of property by baggage smashers. It is a matter which furnishes its own proof.

A big corporation, rich and insolent, undertakes to carry trunks and other baggage with ordinary diligence and attention. From the time the trunk enters the clutches of the baggage smashers it is treated as if it were something incendiary. The said baggage companies, making the largest possible profits from their traffic, manage it on the most penurious basis. One man to a wagon is expected to handle the trunks or lose his job.

Go to the Grand Central any day, winter or summer, during vacation time or when business is slack, and watch the smashing and slashing of trunks as they are dumped on the asphalt pavement, all of which means twenty-five or fifty cents for a special rope to tie a smashed trunk together before it can be checked.

No other property is handled so recklessly and indifferently as a man's baggage. This does not apply to the railroads so much as to the rich concerns, which charge you a stiff price for carrying your trunk to and from the depot and bully you with lawyers in case of damage or theft and beat you down to $15 or $20 for a lost trunk containing clothing valued at $100 or more.

Up on beautiful Lake George, where everything is sweet, exquisite and picturesque, a snapshot was taken for the HERALD of the way they handle trunks on one of the steamboat lines. You see six men trying to save a trunk, which, with proper care, might have been done by one or two men. The answer to this will be the plea of overcrowded business. The answer to that is the more business the more money for the company, and because of the extra business they should hire extra men and protect the property they undertake to transport and from which they make large dividends and try to drive away all careful, trustworthy, cheaper priced competition.

New Kind of Potato in France.

THE British Vice Consul at Rouen reports that the cultivation in France of a new potato brought from Uruguay has been observed for some time with great interest. A variety of this potato, called the "solanum commersonii violet," is said to possess excellence of taste as well as nutritive value, and is equal to the best table potato known in France. This variety is distinguished by its resistance to frost, as also to disease, and its one great advantage is that it prospers most in a damp or swampy soil, where no other kind of potato would grow. Every kind of soil, whether clayey, calcareous or silicious, seems equally adapted for its culture, provided it is damp. The price of this potato, which has now been placed on the market in a limited quantity for planting purposes, is two shillings (about forty-eight cents) a pound.

Cocoanuts.

THE milk in the water cocoanut is a food as well as a beverage. The carts driven through the streets of Jamaica by the quaint old darky urging along his rebellious steed in the form of a native donkey is an interesting sight. One is amazed at the dexterous manner in which the vender takes the unripe cocoanut in his hand, deftly cuts a hole in the top, from which you drink the milk. Then you return the nut to the man and, with his machete, he cracks it into three pieces and cuts a spoon shaped sliver from one side, from which you eat the white, jelly-like substance scraped from the inside. These are the unripe cocoanuts. When ripe the jelly hardens into the hard, white substance to which we are accustomed.

Enamel ware for domestic purposes is now in decided demand in Jamaica.

The Italian company which is carrying out the new harbor works at Antivari has obtained a concession to build the first Montenegrin railway, which will run from Antivari to Virbazar. The same company has also been granted the right of free navigation on Scutari Lake. Antivari is to be made a free port, says London Commercial Intelligence.

Food Scarce in England.

HERE is an English newspaper account of the scarcity of food supplies in England and their greater cost. Some interesting points of the article follow:—

Bacon, cheese, eggs and butter are scarce and dear in England, largely owing to the enormous demand for these commodities in America and Germany. America is also more and more using up its own wheat, and Germany is consuming more and more of the available beet sugar supply, so that though the last crop was one of the largest on record there is a shortage in England. Hence a strong movement in England to establish the sugar beet industry. Hogs are in greater number in the United States, but Americans are eating more of their own bacon, and Germany has begun to compete for the surplus for which England has been the chief market. Whereas Germany used to export provisions, she must secure in an increasing degree supplies for herself.

Even though English ports are free the population of the protected countries of Germany and America are becoming more luxurious, so that the foreign supplies of food for England are diminishing. A week or two ago, while the American shipments of bacon to us were 14,000 or 15,000 boxes, about 4,000 boxes were sent to Germany, though none used to be sent, and the English market is short to that extent. Hogs are also scarce and dear in Canada, and Denmark's supply is now going to Germany instead of England, as formerly.

Eggs are likewise scarce. Austria-Hungary, Russia, Roumania and all the Balkan States used to ship eggs to us. Germany was likewise a big exporter of eggs, butter, cheese and bacon. To-day Germany is sweeping the Continent for eggs, and, as a consequence, last week in the Manchester, Liverpool and London markets it was scarcely possible to buy a Continental egg. At the moment we are almost entirely dependent on Ireland for our supplies, with prices twenty per cent higher than a year ago.

Until last year England had a monopoly of Siberian butter, but Germany stepped in and took half of the production of Siberia direct, and at such prices that London prices went up fifty cents per hundred weight. This year Germany is taking all the Siberian butter, notwithstanding that her import duty was increased from $2.90 to $4.87 per hundred weight. What is true of Siberian butter is true of the Dutch article, and to a large extent of Russian, Finnish and Danish butter. All this explains to the British housewives why they must pay higher prices for provisions.

Evaporated Sweet Potatoes.

EFFORTS are being made to introduce into the market a new kind of food product—evaporated sweet potatoes. If they prove acceptable, it will be a boon to the farmers in some parts of the country, especially in the District of Columbia, where a greater quantity of these tubers is grown than in any State of the Union.

Sweet potatoes are an abundant and cheap crop. They are nutritious and palatable. But they are too bulky for long shipment, and they cannot stand rough handling or exposure to freezing. Hence the importance of finding some way in which they may be concentrated and rendered proof against deterioration.

For this purpose they are first boiled and then sliced—one laborer being able to peel and slice a bushel of sweet potatoes in an hour. The slices, after being thoroughly dried, will keep for any length of time, and will bear transportation to any part of the world at any season. When wanted for use they are soaked for an hour in warm water, or else boiled.

The sweet potato is not, as is commonly supposed, the tropical yam. It is a kind of morning glory and is believed to have originated in India. A wild yam grows in Virginia and Maryland which has tubers about the size of a pea. There are, indeed, many kinds of yams, some of which have aerial tubers weighing one to two pounds apiece. But in Puerto Rico and elsewhere in the tropics there are yams with tubers fifty pounds in weight and these are likely to be shipped to the markets in this country before long, inasmuch as they are exceedingly good to eat.

The Irish International Exhibition, to open in May, 1907, will charge exhibitors 4 shillings (97 1-3 cents) per square foot for space, with a minimum charge of £1 ($4.86). Motive power will be supplied in machinery hall at a moderate price.

TEAM TRAVELLED 40,000 MILES.

THE swift flight of modern express trains across the continent and the fact that an automobile recently made the run from San Francisco to New York in a few hours more than fifteen days, including delays due to accident and arrest, are facts liable to make one regard large distances with something less than the respect they commanded a score of years ago. Science is constantly engaged in annihilating distance, but to the man who walks and the horse that ambles along at an easy pace the miles are just as long and weary and trying.

An American missionary who started from Missouri for South America several years ago with a "gospel wagon" made some amazing trips, and his aggregate of miles footed up a total which created widespread interest and discussion at the time. But here we have a team of horses that undoubtedly holds the world's record.

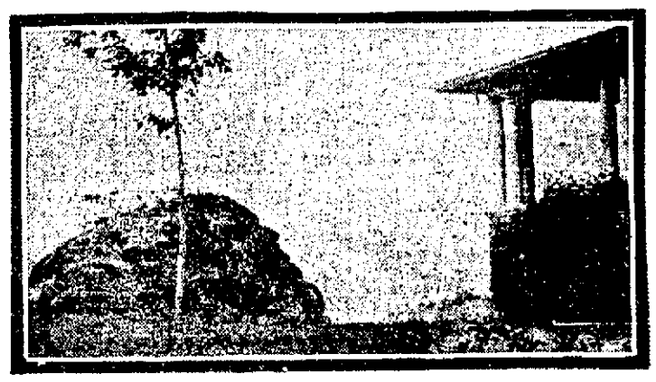
These horses have trotted nearly forty thousand miles in six years. That is a distance almost equal to seven times across the United States and back. But the journey on which they made this record was not only along main roads, but in byways and out of the way places, across lonely plains and over perilous South American mountain trails.

The team is owned by Señor Rodriguez, who six years ago conceived the idea of visiting all of the South American points of importance and viewing a few of those which are not in the itinerary of the ordinary traveller. He was accompanied by his friend Señor Enrique Sarecho and a halfbreed Indian servant.

Their journey was full of strange, amusing and perilous adventures, the details of which would fill a big book. The three horses shown in the picture went through the whole of this remarkable journey and were photographed just before the trip was ended.

NATURAL STONE FACE.



THE action of the weather on the rocks through countless years often produces remarkable natural statuary. A surprising number of profiles and even well modelled faces have been discovered of late throughout the country. The stone face which is shown in the accompanying illustration certainly deserves a place in this collection. It rests in a commanding position at Marblehead, Mass. The face was discovered about two years ago and ever since the grass which surrounds it has been carefully cultivated.

CHAIR OF LUMBERING.

Full Professor Soon to Be Added to Faculty of Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—It was announced today that a full professor of lumbering will be appointed at Yale as soon as an endowment fund of $150,000 is raised by the National Lumber Manufacturer's association for a chair of practical lumbering at the forest school of the university. Arrangements have been made by which the work in the department has been started, the committee in charge consisting of N. W. McLeod, of St. Louis; C. I. Millard, of Chicago, and F. E. Weyerhauser, of St. Paul.

MILLER AND TAYLOR

Lieutenant Governor Hugh Miller and Former Attorney General W. L. Taylor will address the overflow meeting at the court house Thursday evening previous to the arrival of Senator Beveridge. 31-2t

Charles Pask, of this city, has been "spiked" for the Sigma Chi fraternity at Purdue university.

It is the beautiful tone of the Columbia Graphophones that has given them world-wide celebrity. This with durability insured by the highest quality of workmanship and finish, leads the purchaser to pay cheerfully the somewhat higher price asked for them.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Trading in the wheat pit was active today at the time of opening and the market was strong. Shorts and commission houses were good buyers. The bullish features were firm cables and small receipts in the northwest. December opened ½c to ⅝c higher at 73⅞@74c and sold at 74⅝@74½c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 478 cars against 805 cars one year ago.

Prices eased off in the last half of the session on a lessening demand. The close, however, was steady with December ⅜c higher at 74⅛c.

The corn market was firm, on local receipts that were below the estimated amount and active buying by shorts. December opened a shade higher at 43⅛c, sold at 43½@43⅜c and reacted to 43⅝c. Local receipts were 119 cars.

The close was steady with December unchanged at 43⅜@43½c.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 31.—Stocks were depressed at the outset, the losses were in the main well under half per cent. A block of five thousand shares of United States Steel were sold at a decline of ⅝. Rock Island fell a similar amount. Continued realizing in Pennsylvania was responsible for a drop in that stock of a point. The Mexican stocks on the other hand showed general strength. National going up 2, the second preferred 1¼ and Central ¾. Toledo, St. Louis & Western sold down 1½ and Anaconda 2½.

The selling at the opening was suspended until prices had recovered to the finals of yesterday, when it was renewed. The second dip of the market brought the average lower than at the beginning, particularly for the coalers, grangers and Pacifics. Business was on a very limited scale. Wabash preferred and American Ice yielded 1 and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred and Chicago Union Traction preferred 1¼. Virginia Iron rose 1½.

Stocks came out more freely when the call money rate rose above 6 per cent and prices declined more rapidly. Losses of 1 to 1¼ were scored by St. Paul, Southern Pac., Union Pac., Texas Pac., Great Northern preferred, Canadian Pac., New York Central, Brooklyn Transit, United States Steel, General Electric and Westinghouse Electric. American Ice fell 2. Mexican Central bonds continued active at higher prices. Otherwise the bond market was irregular.

Selling diminished after 13 o'clock but the market continued sluggish and made no effective recovery. Chesapeake & Ohio fell off 1¾.

PEORIA BOARD SUES FOR $500,000.

Steps Taken to Recover Money Held Lost by Dougherty's Defalcation.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 31.—A suit for $500,000 was filed in the circuit court yesterday against Barnewalt Meals, president of the school board under Superintendent N. C. Dougherty, who is now in the penitentiary for stealing $750,000. This is the first suit which the members of the present school board have brought in an attempt to make the treasurer and bondsmen stand good for the big shortage. Attorneys for the bondsmen claim the bonds of the treasurer were faultily drawn and that they will not hold in court. Through court proceedings the school board has already seized property of former Superintendent Dougherty amounting to $300,000.

MEN WASH UP THE DISHES.

Pastor and Members Forced to Clean Up After Giving a Supper.

Marion, Ohio, Oct. 31.—Not until two days after did the men members of fashionable St. Paul's Episcopal church finish "doing" the dishes for the supper they served to the women. No woman was allowed to boss, suggest or assist and the affair was a big success.

Rev. E. G. Mapes, the pastor, flew about the kitchen with an apron tied under his chin. O. S. Rapp, Mace Weaver, Howard Wetmore, Tracey Allen and John Dudley, bankers and merchants, waited upon table. Fred Dombaugh, Harry Pierson and Captain Van Horn, society men, cut the bread and served oysters and other things.

Not a dish was broken, but after the supper the men postponed the task of washing the dishes. They asked the women to do it finally, but the fair ones refused and the men pitched in and "did" the dishes in the gymnasium of the church.

GAVE RETIRING FOREMAN A BUGGY

Employes of Pennsylvania Paint Shop Remember Mr. Rodabaugh.

PAY FITTING TRIBUTE

To the Man With Whom They Were Associated for Half a Century.

An interesting and touching scene was enacted at the paint shop office at the east yards at 8:30 this morning when the forty-five or fifty employes of the department gathered about T. J. Rodabaugh, their retiring foreman, to bid him good by and to make a fitting expression of the love and esteem they entertain for him. Just before the gathering a letter containing a receipted bill for a handsome leather top piano box buggy from the establishment of Andy Vogley was presented to Mr. Rodabaugh and he had just completed perusal of the letter when the men marched in the room. He was greatly touched by the incident and for a moment was unable to speak. When Mr. Rodabaugh recovered composure, he made an address thanking the men for the gift and speaking feelingly of the many years he had been associated with them in shop work. He also referred to his career in that line which began when he was thirteen years old in the capacity of water boy to a gang of men engaged in building a railway in Ohio. At the close of his remarks, Mr. Rodabaugh took each man by the hand and bade him farewell, only in the capacity of foreman, assuring each that he had no intention of severing friendly or personal relations with him and that he would frequently mingle with the painters in a social way as long as he was able to get out to the shop. The scene was one of the most affecting of its character ever witnessed in railway circles in Fort Wayne, for Mr. Rodabaugh has been a just and kind foreman and has enjoyed the good will of the men to a remarkable degree. This is indicated in the gift and the letter presented to him this morning, the latter reading as follows:

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 30, 1906.

Dear Mr. Rodabaugh:

We have been with you for so many days and months and years, Mr. Rodabaugh, and our associations have been so pleasant in all ways during the long time we have been together, that we could not but feel, now that you are retiring from among us as a shopmate, that you would not look unfavorably upon a little remembrance from us—something that might recall to your mind during the days you are at play and we are trudging along in the same old way, the kindly feeling that has always existed between us, and knowing the pleasures you enjoy most we could think of nothing that would get closer to your heart than something in the 'horse' line. With this in view, Mr. Rodabaugh, we are attaching to this letter a little piece of paper that you will understand, and with it is extended to you the kindliest feelings of every man in your department, for it has always been a pleasure to labor under your supervision, and though we regret the parting of our ways, we earnestly hope the future may hold for you and yours only the best of all good things.

With our kindest regards, and the wish that you will accept this in the spirit in which it is offered, we are,

Very truly yours,

—The Entire Paint Department.

To Mr. T. J. Rodabaugh.

Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mr. Rodabaugh's railway career dates from 1859, when he assisted in grading a part of the line which is now the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago branch of the Pennsylvania system through the eastern part of Ohio. He came to this city in June, 1855, and joined a gang of track layers in building that portion of the Wabash road which lies between New Haven and Defiance. When the Wabash road was completed through this city Mr. Rodabaugh took a position as painter with the company and worked in that capacity until June, 1860, when he resigned and took a similar position with the P., Ft. W. & C. In 1868 he was appointed foreman of the paint department of the western division, a position he has since filled with satisfaction to the officials and credit to himself. He was never reprimanded, suspended or discharged and was always on the most friendly terms with both officials and the men over whom he had charge. That he possessed exceptionable capabilities in the line of work in which he was engaged is proved by his standing in the ranks of the Master Car and Locomotive Painters' association, of which he is a member, which placed him at the head of some of the most important committees on several occasions.

In the days of the Fort Wayne volunteer fire department, Mr. Rodabaugh was a prominent member of Vigilant company, No. 2, and for eight years was its foreman. In all he served sixteen years in the volunteer fire department and witnessed some exciting scenes in fighting fires. Mr. Rodabaugh is also quite prominent in Odd Fellow and Masonic circles. He became a member of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., in 1858, and has been active in its work ever since. For twenty-five years he was the treasurer of the lodge and had the wishes of the membership been observed, he would still occupy that position. Mr. Rodabaugh refused reelection four or five years ago, because, as he said, others were entitled to the honor. Mr. Rodabaugh was born in Summit county, Ohio, October 9, 1836. He was married in 1857 to Miss Elizabeth J. Snyder, a native of Canal Dover, Ohio, the ceremony taking place in this city, and the happy couple have resided here constantly, respected by the entire community and loved by those who are more intimately acquainted with them. They are members of the Congregational church and did much towards its upbuilding.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodabaugh expect to spend the coming winter in California and will leave for that state November 20. They will go to Los Angeles via the Southern route, where they will spend a week or two with friends, and then go to Long Beach, which will be their headquarters for the winter. Their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Jones, of Colorado Springs, will join them at Long Beach and spend a portion of the winter with them.

T. J. RODABAUGH,

Who Tonight Retires from the Foremanship of the Paint Department of the Pennsylvania shops After a Service of Forty-six Years.

G. I. A. TO B. L. E. AT GARRETT.

Twenty Members of the Fort Wayne Auxiliary Attend the Exercises.

The Garrett auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is hostess this afternoon and evening to a number of their fraternal sisters in other cities. Lodge work, including the conferring of degrees, is occupying the hours of the afternoon and this evening a reception will be given in honor of the visitors. The personnel of the party from this city who went to Garrett on the 11 o'clock interurban car to represent the Fort Wayne auxiliary is as follows: Mrs. E. D. Germain, Mrs. Charles Merriet, Mrs. Chester Darnell, Mrs. William Gates, Mrs. T. H. Sinclair, Mrs. Marion Teagarden, Mrs. Michael Maroney, Mrs. A. Z. Becker, Mrs. Joseph Stouder, Mrs. Robert Johns, Mrs. Daniel Grubb, Mrs. Robert Cowan, Mrs. Charles Summers, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. John Cooke, Mrs. Edward Ebert, Mrs. Harry Westerman, Mrs. E. Blanchard, Mrs. R. D. Todd and Mrs. W. W. Haenel. They will return home about 12 o'clock tonight.

A PLEASANT STAG PARTY.

The employes in the Pennsylvania shop clerk's office, thirty-one in number, enjoyed the hospitality of their comrade and his estimable wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Weimer, last evening. The host and hostess were married September 15 and the affair last evening was a celebration of that nuptial event. A three course luncheon was served and following it came a musical in which the performers were taken from the clerical ranks of the shop clerks and was of an exceptionally high character. The only ladies present were a few of the relatives of the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Weimer make their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Reinewald, where the party was given. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, carnations predominating in the floral decorations.

TANK SHOP MAN HURT.

W. M. Bowman, of the Pennsylvania tank shop, had his shoulders and back injured this morning by a sheet of steel falling upon him while he was stooping at work at the side of it. He will be off duty a few days as a result of the accident.

MACHINIST LOSES FINGER.

J. H. Bryant, a machinist at the Pennsylvania round house, met with a distressing accident yesterday afternoon, when in some manner he got his fingers caught in the link blocks of an engine and had the little finger on his left hand completely severed. The injured man was attended by the company's surgeon and it will be some time before he will be able to return to work.

TALKING TRACK ELEVATION.

Pennsylvania and Wabash Division Officials Holding Conference.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan and Engineer of Maintenance of Way W. S. Danes, of the Wabash, came up from Peru this afternoon to meet Supt. J. B. McKim and Engineer of Maintenance of Way Fred Graham for the purpose of talking over the proposition to elevate the tracks of the companies they represent. The meeting is being held in Mr. McKim's office.

BOSTONIANS GOING WEST.

As mentioned a few days ago in these columns a number of tourist cars passed through on the Nickel Plate yesterday from Boston, bound for the Pacific coast. Tomorrow Agent Parmin announces that he will have a special train of six tourist sleepers and a baggage car from the same place and bound for Los Angeles, Cal.

MAIL ORDER CORRESPONDENT.

The position in the mail order department at Bowser's recently vacated by H. C. Storr, who went to Boston to take charge of the department there, was taken by Mr. H. C. Worrall, and Mr. D. C. Johnson, of Grand Rapids, has arrived in the city to be Mr. Worrall's assistant.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

F. E. Minnick is a new laborer at the Pennsylvania machine shop.

W. M. Repine and S. G. Miller, Pittsburg shopmen, are sick and off duty.

Ed Miller, of Huntington, has taken a position in the Bass blacksmith shop.

S. B. Neuenschwander has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate.

T. McKenzie is a new man in the shipping department at the Rolling mills.

I. B. Lane, boilermaker at the Nickel Plate round house, is sick and unable to work.

R. Meyers is a new man in the foundry at the Western Gas plant. He is a helper.

Frank Anderson, machinist, is on the sick list at the Indiana Road Machine company.

F. J. Wyatt and J. M. Bryan, Nickel Plate brakemen, are laying off for short vacations.

C. L. Sprague, traveling passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast line, was in the city today.

Number 4 furnace at the Rolling mill plant was closed down today to make some repairs.

A number of the republican candidates held a noonday meeting at the Western Gas plant today.

Mrs. Robert Johns, wife of the Nickel Plate engineer, is visiting her mother in Fostoria, Ohio.

A. F. Klein, of the Pennsylvania smith shop, had an eye badly burned yesterday by a hot cinder.

L. H. Elder, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is off duty on account of the sickness of his child.

C. S. Rodgers, general agent of the passenger department of the Lake Shore, was in the city yesterday.

The big hammer in the Bass smith shop, which was broken a week ago, will be ready for operation tonight.

Martin Cramer, foreman of yard laborers at the Pennsylvania shops, is back at work after a few days' illness.

Among the shipments that left the Western Gas works today were two car loads of machinery to Seattle, Wash.

D. Curran, traveling freight agent of the Trailer's Dispatch, was in the city today in the interest of his department.

Charles Logan resigned a position at the fan motor shop of the Electric works this morning and will go to Toledo to work.

Machinist Dennis Cleary resigned a position at the Wabash shops this morning. He may return to the Pennsylvania shops.

W. A. Danke, a car repairman, and C. Wetzler, A. J. Williams and D. A. Bird, laborers, are new employes at the east car shops.

C. J. Wagner, a laborer at the Pennsylvania erecting shop, has returned from Pittsburg, where he spent a week with friends.

R. G. Finker, foreman of the tank work at the Pensylvania round house, who had been sick a few days, resumed work this morning.

Engineer R. H. Craig, Fireman Bert Young and Engineers David Moore and S. H. Truesdale, of the Pennsylvania, are sick and off duty.

William H. Shorey, night ticket agent at the Wabash depot, and his family will leave this evening for California to be gone three weeks.

John Doly, chief healer on the 18-inch mill at the Rolling mill plant, who has been on the sick list for several days, has reported for work.

George Meeker has resigned his position as fireman on a Lake Shore switch engine and has accepted a similar position on the Nickel Plate road force.

The Nickel Plate had Vice-President Fairbanks' special train from Argos to Hammond today. Mr. Fairbanks will deliver speeches at Knox and Valparaiso en route.

The following Nickel Plate men have reported for duty after short absences on account of sickness: W. Terry and F. M. Werling and C. A. Seymour, brakeman.

G. W. Ellenwood, baggagemaster at the Lake Shore depot, and family have returned from Flint, Mich., where they have been attending the funeral of Mr. Ellenwood's uncle.

R. L. Johnson and E. K. Aubrey, who have been on the Nickel Plate extra brakemen list, have been ordered to Bellevue to work on the work trains out of that place.

John Blaising, issue clerk at the Pennsylvania store room, resumed his duties last night, after a week's absence. He was recently married and had been enjoying a honey moon.

Tonight will complete the week's work for the men at the plant of the Indiana Road Machine works, as the plant will be closed down for inventory for the balance of the week.

E. H. Irelan, of 1707 Smith street, an employe of the Bass works, will leave the city the first of November for Philadelphia, Pa., on a business trip and will be absent from home about fifteen days.

The Wabash has established a well of flowing water at Prairie switch for the use of the operators at that point, who have been put at considerable inconvenience in carrying water from the farms thereabouts ever since a telegraph station was established at that place. The well is seventy feet deep and thirty feet of it is through solid rock.

O. W. Kamm appeared at the Pennsylvania shops with a box of cigars for the boys this morning. The smokers are distributed on account of the arrival of a baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kamm.

The following item furnished by a tank shop man explains itself: "The checker players in the tank shop of the Pennsylvania hereby accept the challenge which appeared in last Saturday's Sentinel by authority of J. Osborne, of the copper shop. If Mr. Osborne will communicate with W. Leach or J. E. Whyte, arrangements for a match can be made."

Never in the history of western roads have they been so swamped with business as at the present time. It is reported that the Northern Pacific has at least 10,000 loaded cars along its line which it is unable to move. Other roads in the west are also in bad shape. One of the main reasons is the abnormal movement of lumber to rebuild San Francisco.

FRAUD IN COFFEE IS TRACED

Poor Grades Sent to Porto Rico and Returned as Finest Beans.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Inferior grades of coffee put in ships' manifests as peas and beans, shipped from this country to Porto Rico, then reshipped from there to other countries, and in some instances back to the United States, as high grade Porto Rican coffee, have been the subject of an investigation by the department of commerce and labor. Instructions have been given to the collector of customs at New York to see to it that the manifests of vessels clearing for Porto Rico be examined with care to prevent the fraud, apprehend the perpetrators and prosecute them on charges of perjury.

FIND BONES 25,000 YEARS OLD.

Geologists Make Discovery in Texas Showing Desert Was Once Jungle.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 31.—Walter E. Koch, a fellow of the Geological Society of London, and G. B. Richardson of the United States geological survey, in excavations here, have unearthed jawbones of two tapirs, supposed to have existed here 25,000 years ago, and an elephant's tooth, from an animal which probably lived about 12,000 years ago. The discovery of the bones proves, the geologists say, that this great desert region was once a jungle. Tapirs live on roots along river banks and elephants would not have been here unless it had been marshy.

WANT NAVY DRYDOCK.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 31.—A movement has been started in this city to bring the attention of the navy department at Washington to the need of a drydock in Narragansett bay. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry, who recently made a tour of inspection of the navy yards on the Atlantic coast is said to have expressed himself strong on the need of additional drydocks and naval officers here point to the advisability of having one of the two new docks, provided for by an appropriation of congress, established near the naval coaling station at Bradford.

HAD PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Indiana F. M. Y. School Board Holds Annual Meeting.

The board of trustees of the Indiana school for feeble minded youth held the annual meeting Tuesday and reviewed the past year's work at the school. The report of the treasurer, E. M. Wilson, shows that the school is in a very prosperous condition financially and Superintendent Albert E. Carroll was highly complimented for his able conduct of the institution. The board is now drawing up the annual report for submission to the governor and a list of the needs for the next two years. All the improvements covered by the specific appropriations of the last general assembly of Indiana have been completed with the exception of the custodial school for boys. This will be ready by spring.

MEETING PLACE CHOSEN.

Y. M. C. A. State Convention to Be Held at First Presbyterian Church.

The First Presbyterian church has been selected as the place for holding the state convention of the Young Men's Christian association which meets in Fort Wayne November 22 to 25. The church was tendered the committee by Rev. H. B. Master, under instructions from the trustees and the congregation.

It has also been decided to hold a women's meeting at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, November 25, and at the same hour a men's meeting will be held at the Majestic theater, while a boys' meeting is also under consideration. The complete program for the convention will be given to the public within a short time.

An Imitation Stove Will Give Imitation Heat

Avoid the cheaply constructed, putty jointed stove as you would counterfeit money, because it is just as worthless—and in many cases even more so. For not only does it radiate heat badly, but it wastes its original cost many times in fuel.

The majority of manufacturers, attracted by the phenomenal success of Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove, have imitated and copied it ever since it was put on the market. But in looks only have they been able to reproduce this wonderful heater.

For the features which make Cole's Hot Blast so economical in fuel, so effective in heating, and so durable in construction, are all patented and protected.

The joints of the ordinary stove are plastered with stove putty in an endeavor to make them air-tight.

When the putty dries up and falls out, cold air is sucked in through the cracks—and the valuable gases from soft or hard coal, which should be burned, go up the chimney, along with most of the heat.

Shows Cole's Hot Blast Stove Burning Soft Coal

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal or Wood

Made without stove putty. It remains air tight during the entire life of the stove, and is sold under the following guarantee, which cannot be made on any other heating stove in the world:

GUARANTEE:

1—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal or slack.
2—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire-pot.
3—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning, with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
4—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.
5—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal, or lignite.
6—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
7—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The big expense of heating your home is in the fuel and not the first cost of your stove. Don't let yourself be persuaded to buy anything but Cole's Original Hot Blast.

Ask for free booklet on "Scientific Combustion," which will show you how to heat your home twice as comfortably at one-half the present cost.

CAUTION See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago," on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it.

WHITE FRUIT HOUSE.

A NEW INNOVATION AT THE HOF BRAU.

The Specials at the Hof Brau will be served every day in ten minutes, and they have arranged for a daily service of new specials. To-day Hungarian Goulash will be served at any time during the day. Thursday, Devilled Crabs, and so on, every day a new special. Mallard Ducks, Frog Legs, Black Bass, Oysters, Clams and Steaks on short notice. They are equipped in both kitchen and dining room with the best help in the restaurant business.

Mr. R. K. White has the supervision of the kitchen, and he has an able assistant in Mr. Alphonse Jenny. The service now in quickness and dispatch is something new in this city. The Hof Brau has steadily grown and is surprising to the management in the increasing business in less than a year's time.

Theater parties and suppers will be given especial attention.

FREE.

A good bristle cloth brush given with any purchase of 25 cents or more, one to each party. The new Victor and Edison records for November are in stock, 1008 Calhoun street.

REDUCTION IN RATES —LAKE SHORE RY

Effective Nov. 1st, the L. S. & M. S. Ry will reduce its local rates between points in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois, and all interstate rates of the entire Lake Shore Ry., will be made on the combination of the local rates. Corresponding reductions will be made in rates to points on other lines.

No reduction in cash fares paid on trains will be made. This means that in almost every case a passenger can save about 15 per cent by purchasing a ticket. o-30-31-nov-1-3

STOVE THOUGHTS

These nippy days now and then make thoughts of stoves pertinent and comfortable. It may be a little early to buy, but it certainly isn't too early to commence to look about if you expect to get the most for your money. If you want a stove and don't care what it is, or what you pay, buy at any old store. If you want something valuable, which will give you good service and no trouble and not cost a small fortune, come right this way. We have stoves suitable for your parlor, dinning room or kitchen. Your money will buy more heat here than anywhere else.
